The Shiite hijackers took the plane to Beirut, then to Algeria and then back to Beirut. Most of the hostages were released within days but the remaining 39 hostages were held for 17 days. One American hostage was killed.

NATION

STATE

On January 28, 1986, the students of America received a harsh, unexpected lesson on life and death. Seventy-three seconds after liftoff, the space shuttle Challenger exploded, killing all seven aboard. The Challenger crew was Commander Dick Scobee, Pilot Michael Smith, electrical engineer Judith Resnik, physicist Ronald McNair, aerospace engineer Ellison Onizuka, electrical engineer Gregory Jarvis, and school teacher Christa McAuliffe. McAuliffe was selected to be the first ordinary citizen in space through a program initiated by President Reagan. The twenty-fifth shuttle mission was for the schoolchildren and was often called "the ultimate field trip." McAuliffe, a social studies teacher from Concord, New Hampshire, was to conduct two fifteen minute classes for millions of students. Unfortunately, the shuttle never reached orbit.

The catastrophe occured at 11:39am apparently because of trouble with the right solid rocket booster. Word of the disaster spread quickly throughout the nation, and the loss of the "Challenger Seven" was shared with millions glued to the television repeats of the explosion. A few days later at the final farewell for the Challenger astronauts, President Reagan gave his eulogy: "Your families and your country mourn your passing. We bid you goodbye. We will never forget you."

Sarasota is a fast-paced, proud and rapidly growing city in a beautifully natural setting that delights every visitor whether he views a sunset at the beach or dines at one of our numerous fine restaurants.

far left, second from top Recognition was justly deserved and, in January, Willard Scott of the immensely popular Today Show was on the grounds of the Ringling Museum of Art to do the honors. Sarasota caught the country's attention after 100 years, maybe after 200, the world's.

middle, second from top Hurricane Elena demonstrates her strength before ravaging Sarasota's coastline. Palm trees weren't the only ones who obliged this fearsome lady; citizens condescendingly left their homes and secured their belongings, all in the name of safety.

far right, second from top Sarasota's 100th brithday even prompted flag waving. Flags such as this could be spotted along streets in the downtown area heralding an important year in the history of "the city of tradition, opportunity and beauty".

far left, second from bottom The Ringling Museum-sponsored Medieval Fair is a grand scale production that fun-seekers far and wide never miss. This annual event takes place on the grounds of the Ringling estate and is actively supported by the community. The Medieval Fair is enjoyed by all ages, and fun, food and a little education is experienced by all who attend.

middle, bottom Willard Scott wasn't the only celebrity to make an appearance in Sarasota this past year. Halley's comet was also a "star attraction". Even average citizens were swept up in the comet craze and scanned the newspaper for details, picked the best viewing time and grabbed a lawn chair and a telescope, hoping to glimpse the once in a lifetime comet.

far right, bottom Skill, finesse and just plain class was the norm during the annual Sarasota Classic held at Bent Tree in February. Patty Sheehan became the first to win this title two years in a row. JoAnn Carner, Jan Stephenson and Val Skinner were among the favorite personalities to be seen traipsing the course.

CITY

The student body of Cardinal Mooney High School has reached new heights, never before possible. With leadership from our new principal, Sister Patricia Garrahan, guidance from a restructured faculty and stimulated by a highly active Student Council, students have found new ways to grow and new opportunities to excel.

Attending school at Cardinal Mooney is a spiritual, emotional, intellectual and an all-around fun experience. Free Fare, the band with a message and Voices, the giant audio filmstrip provided in-school activities that were more than just a regular pep rally. Two new clubs, Hi-Y and SADD, were formed to enhance the extra-curricular life at Mooney. A newcomer to the social calendar at Mooney was the Pep Club-sponsored Sweetheart Dance. Students certainly can't complain of being bored (at least out of class)!!

Cardinal Mooney also caught the attention of the Sarasota community as a result of the honors its students earned. This year's volleyball team boasted the best record in the history of Mooney volleyball. The Art Department outdid itself this year by winning 19 Robinson's Art Awards. Carolyn Rey, a National Merit Finalist, David Murphy, a full football scholarship recipient, and Nikki Rupp, a state-wide art portfolio winner also brought their share of recognition to Mooney.

Cardinal Mooney High School isn't the same school it was last year. Today's graduates have a clearer and wider vision as a result of the broad spectrum of opportunities they have been exposed to. This year has been one of quantum growth and development. Our students have given new meaning to the phrase "Strive with Pride".

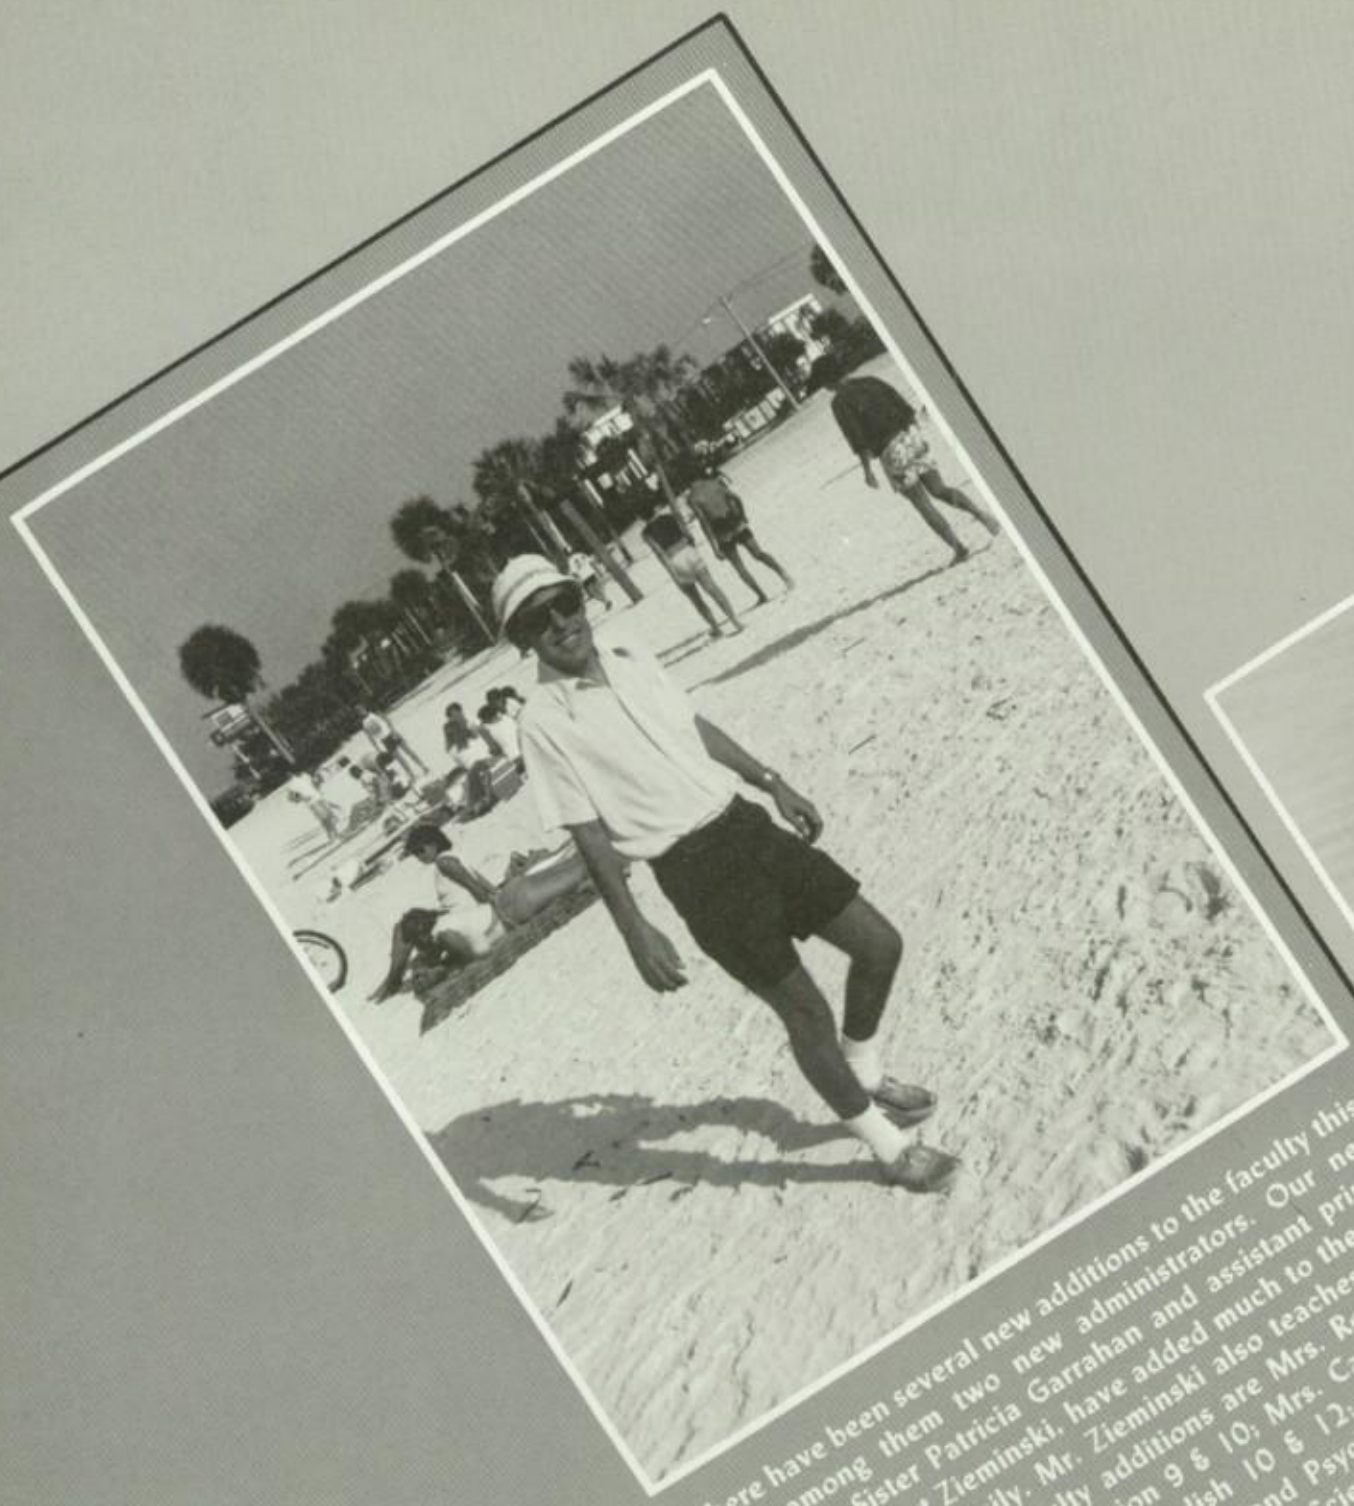
SCHOOL



There have been several new additions to the faculty this year, among them two new administrators. Our new principal, Sister Patricia Garrahan and assistant principal, Mr. Robert Zieminski, have added much to the Carbra 2-Trig. Other faculty additions are Mrs. Rosemarie Cucore, Math 1 and Religion 9 & 10; Mrs. Carole Kuklewski, A.P. English and English 10 & 12; Mr. Shaun Pigott, Modified Algebra 1 & 2 and Psychology; Mrs. Shirley Pride, Biology and Phsycial Science; and Miss Michelle Timmel, U.S. History and World Culture. These and all members of the faculty make attending Cardinal Mooney more gratifying by taking a personal interest in the students as well as an academic one.

The teachers and faculty at Cardinal Mooney have had a tremendous impact on our lives. They have guided us through our years of learning and watched us mature into the individuals we have become. We owe so much to the faculty for the care and concern they have shown us throughout the years. They imparted wisdom and courage to go on in life. They have challenged us and encouraged us to do things to our fullest potential. We will always hold a piece of each teacher in us and remember what we have been taught. Their kindness, friendship and love is reflected in a small part of each of our personalities. Teachers play an important role and are the strong basis on which each student develops his or her own intellect, values and emotions. The faculty have made Cardinal Mooney more like a family. Each teacher has contributed thoughts, skills and talents towards making Cardinal Mooney a better place. They have helped each of us to grow not only intellectually but personally as well.

OUR SPIRITUAL LEADERS

Bishop John J. Nevins made his first visit of the 1985-86 school year on Cardinal Mooney Day. At a liturgy concelebrated with school pastor Fr. Mark Heuberger, the bishop stated that he wanted the school theme for the year, "Strive With Pride", not just in school but in our personal lives as well. He said, "Strive to make your lives, and the lives of those around you better so that all can be proud."

1. Fr. Mark meets Pope John Paul II while on a trip to Rome.
2. Bishop John J. Nevins blesses students as he departs.
3. Bishop Nevins and Fr. Mark concelebrate the school liturgy on Cardinal Mooney Day.
4. Fr. Mark on Football Spirit Week as a "Tacky tourist".

Priests who pastor parishes in the Mooney area of the Diocese of Venice have long been known to support, spiritually and financially, both the individual student as well as Cardinal Mooney High School itself.

EPITOME OF EXCELLENCE

Above: Father Mark, our School Pastor, and Mr. Payne, Director of Guidance, discuss some serious matters. Mr. Zieminski is one of our new administrators who help keep the school running smoothly under careful supervision.

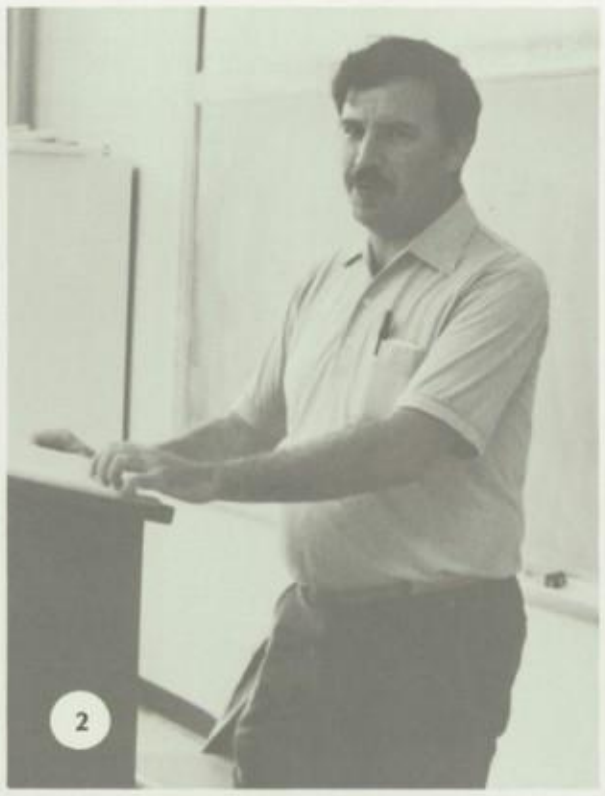
Sister Patricia Garrahan is a unique and special leader. She has contributed much to Cardinal Mooney in the short time she has been here. Always ready to help with a problem, Sister Patricia shows how much she cares. Though the position of principal is very demanding, she carries out her duties efficiently, skillfully and always with a smile.

BUSINESS EDUCATION

Ms. Fraser teaches Consumer Math, Accounting and Business Law.

Mrs. Anderson teaches Typing I & II and Personal Typing.

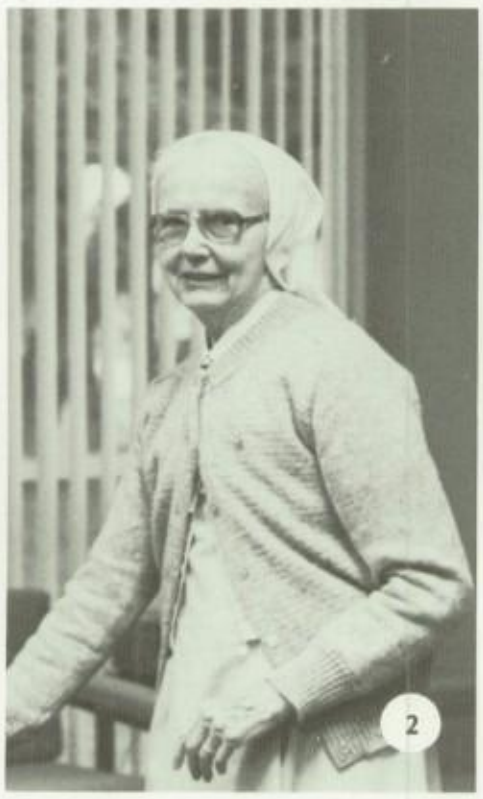
SOCIAL STUDIES



1. Miss Martinko is head of the Social Studies Department and teaches Physical Education.
2. Mr. McDonald teaches Senior Social Studies, Current Events and Spanish I.
3. Mr. Fottler teaches Senior Social Studies and A.P. History.
4. Mr. Dowling teaches World Culture and Weightlifting.
5. Miss Timmel teaaches U.S. History and World Culture and is the Keyettes Advisor.
6. Miss Martinko relaxes as her P.E. class runs on the track.
7. Mr. Donivan teaches Boys' P.E. 1, 2, and 3.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

THEY'RE "WRITE" ON



1. Mrs. Scafa, head of our English department this year, grades junior spelling tests. She exerts much effort making Emerson and Thoreau understandable to juniors. Once again she moderates Academic Olympics.
2. Sister Mary David has returned. Both she and we have expressed satisfaction. She teaches a freshman reading class and spends the rest of the day tutoring students in need of assistance.
3. Mrs. Halstead listens while her freshmen read aloud. She gives enough encouragement and has enough enthusiasm to stand 6'2".
4. Mrs. Kuklewski teaches both sophomore and senior English. She covers all literature, general as well as senior term papers. After school hours, Mrs. Kuklewski dedicates her time to play practice with the drama club.
5. Mrs. Tate also teaches sophomore and senior English. She moves from "limpid" to "misanthrope" in one day's time.

THE CULTURE CLUB

6. The fast-growing music department is under the direction of Mr. Denis Alberigo, who teaches chorus and music theory. This year the music departments highlight was the entertaining Christmas show.
7. At Cardinal Mooney, future artists are not only offered lessons in drawing but also in design, art history, and ceramics. Hard work and patient guidance from Mr. Brown resulted in a record of 19 art awards from the 40 pieces of art submitted inthe Scholastic Art Show. Gold keys and blue ribbons as well as art work traveling on for New York national competition were well-deserved awards.

MICROBES, MOLECULES, MATTER

Science courses at Cardinal Mooney provide a broad spectrum for science-minded students.

1. Mr. Listwan teaches physical science, biology, and environmental science.
2. Mrs. Pride teaches physical science and biology.
3. Mr. Mauck teaches chemistry and physics.

BON JOUR/BUENOS DIAS

Four years of both French and Spanish not only inundate the foreign language student with a near-native vocabulary and grammar, but also an appreciation of their cultures.

Senora Prestamo arranges a "cultural experience" for Spanish students with a full course dinner.

Madame Buri's French students have their cultural experience at a French restaurant in Sarasota.

MATHEMATICS KNOW-HOW

1. Mr. Morusiewicz, head of the Math Department, teaches Senior Religion, Precalculus and Computer.
2. Sister Marie Julie is Senior Class Moderator, Cheerleading Moderator and teaches Senior Religion, French I and Algebra II.
3. Mr. Pigott helps a student with an unsolveable problem.
4. Mrs. Hankinson is Junior Class Moderator and teaches Geometry and Algebra.
5. Mr. Zieminski shows his spirit on Hawaiian Day.
6. Mrs. Pardo teaches Algebra I and Modified Geometry.

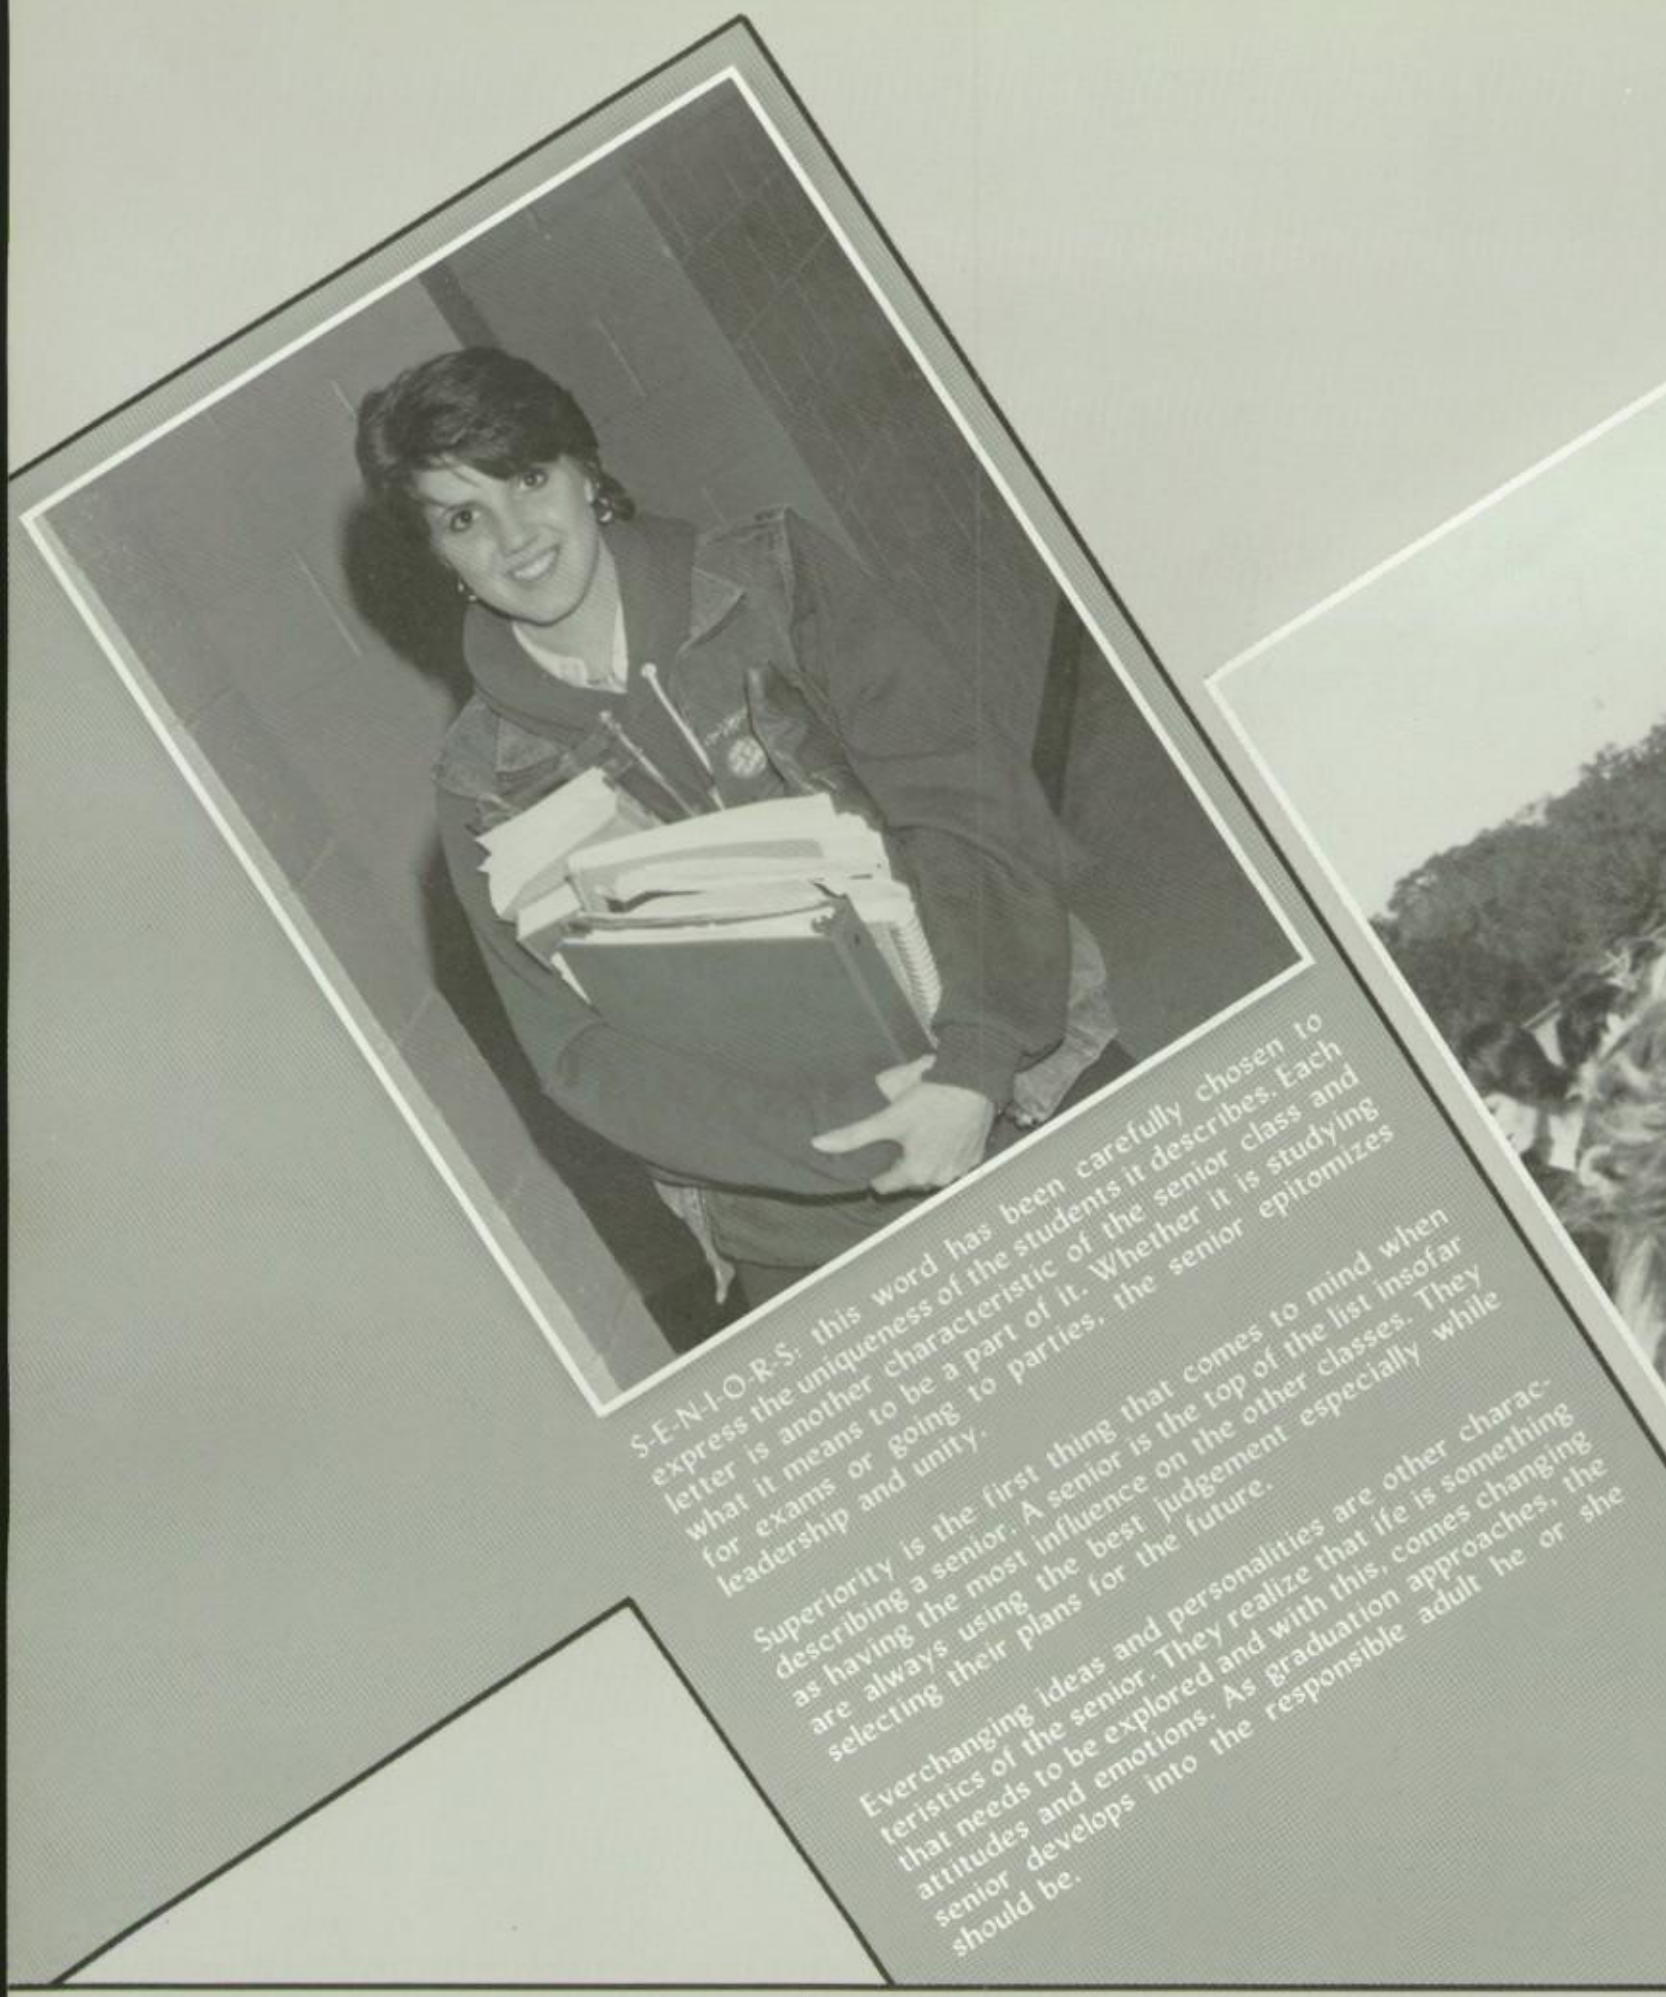
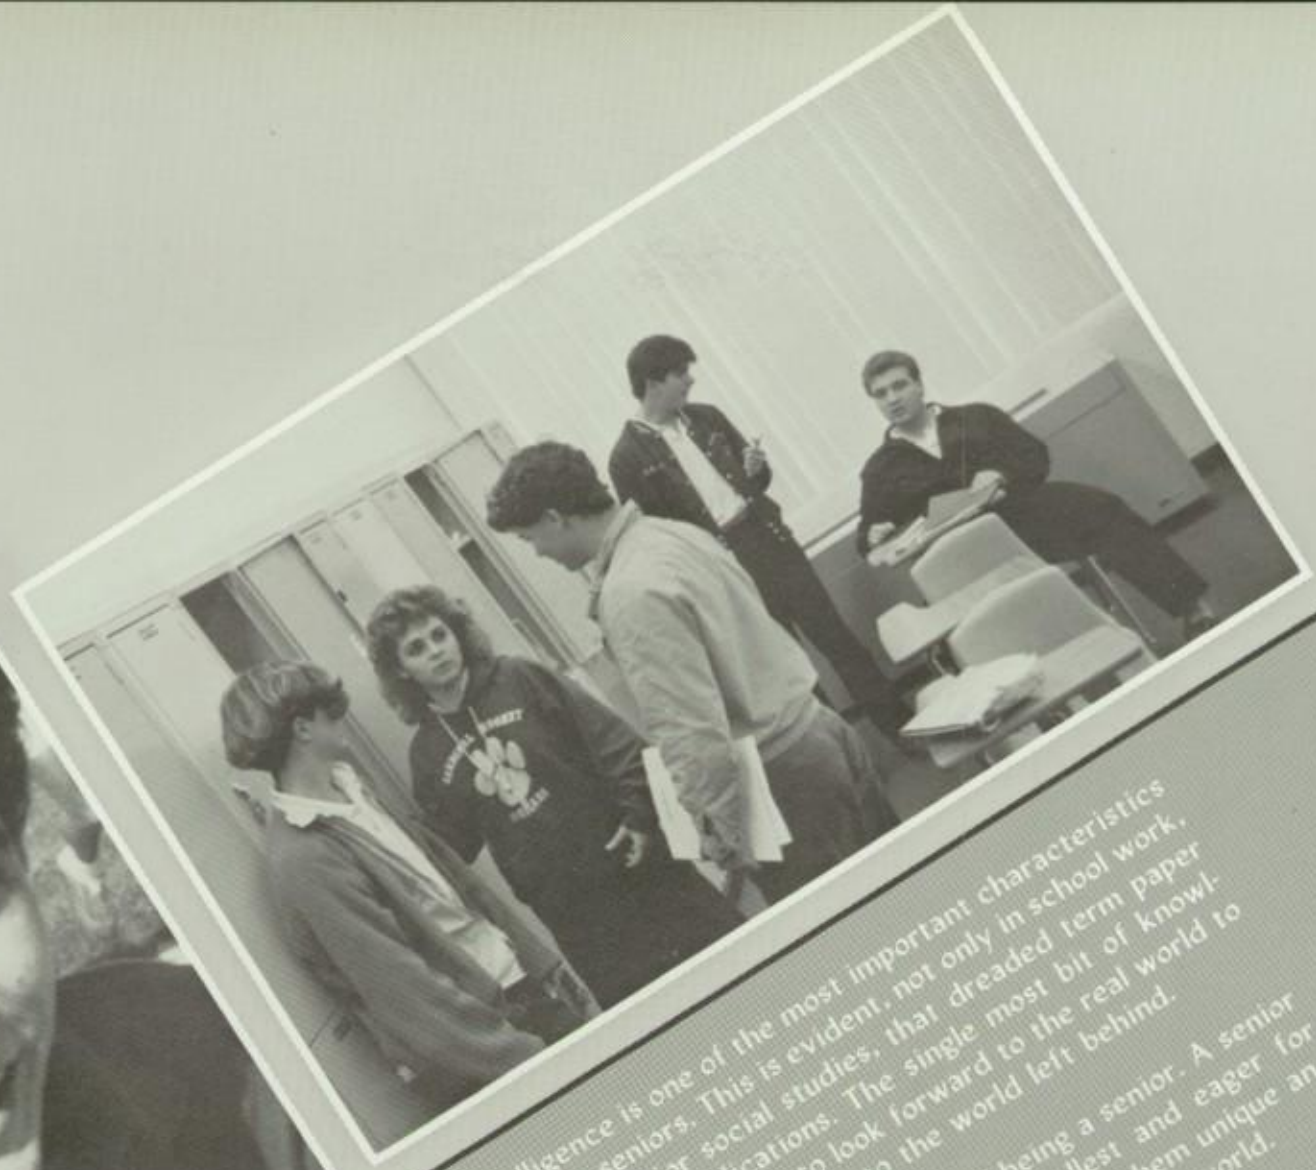
PLACE THE FACE



S-E-N-I-O-R-S: this word has been carefully chosen to express the uniqueness of the students it describes. Each letter is another characteristic of the senior class and what it means to be a part of it. Whether it is studying for exams or going to parties, the senior epitomizes leadership and unity.

Superiority is the first thing that comes to mind when describing a senior. A senior is the top of the list insofar as having the most influence on the other classes. They are always using the best judgement especially while selecting their plans for the future.

Everchanging ideas and personalities are other characteristics of the senior. They realize that life is something that needs to be explored and with this, comes changing attitudes and emotions. As graduation approaches, the senior develops into the responsible adult he or she should be.



Intelligence is one of the most important characteristics found in seniors. This is evident, not only in school work, such as senior social studies, that dreaded term paper and college applications. The single most bit of knowledge is their ability to look forward to the real world to come and to look back to the world left behind.

Optimism is an essential part of being a senior. A senior is very eager to live life to its fullest and eager for success. This kind of optimism makes them unique and will enable them to go out to conquer the world.

Responsibility is something that must be assumed by a senior before the culmination of their high school career. Many of these questions weigh heavily upon them, only a responsible person can answer them.

"Striving with pride" was a motto that meant something to the whole student body. But for the senior, not only was there great pride in Cardinal Mooney, but also great pride in self. A Mooney graduate can stand tall and say with pride, that with the help of the good God, an important goal in life has finally been achieved — GRADUATION!

Seniors

SENIOR LEADERSHIP

"The senior class president Katie Wright, vice-president Wayne Paschke, secretary Joan Sartori, and treasurer Lori Hoinkes contributed to a great senior year with the help of five homeroom representatives. As a group, they grew in their ability to work together and to lead their class. The members of the Class of '86 left behind them a challenge to each class at Mooney to build on their efforts." — Sister Marie Julie

SENIORS OFF AND ON CAMPUS

Because seniors will be very shortly out in the real world, they divide their time off and on campus among a variety of activities; off campus at jobs and social affairs, and on campus keeping old friendships, making new ones, and in their exuberance, causing a mild consternation at times.

WHO COULD FORGET . . .

Seniors leave Cardinal Mooney with memories of hysterical laughter, hard study and good times. Years spent at Mooney have shaped many a personality and have formed some great friendships, the kind that only come along once in a lifetime. Each member of the senior class is memorable in his or her own way but the following people were honored by their classmates as being among the "most notable."

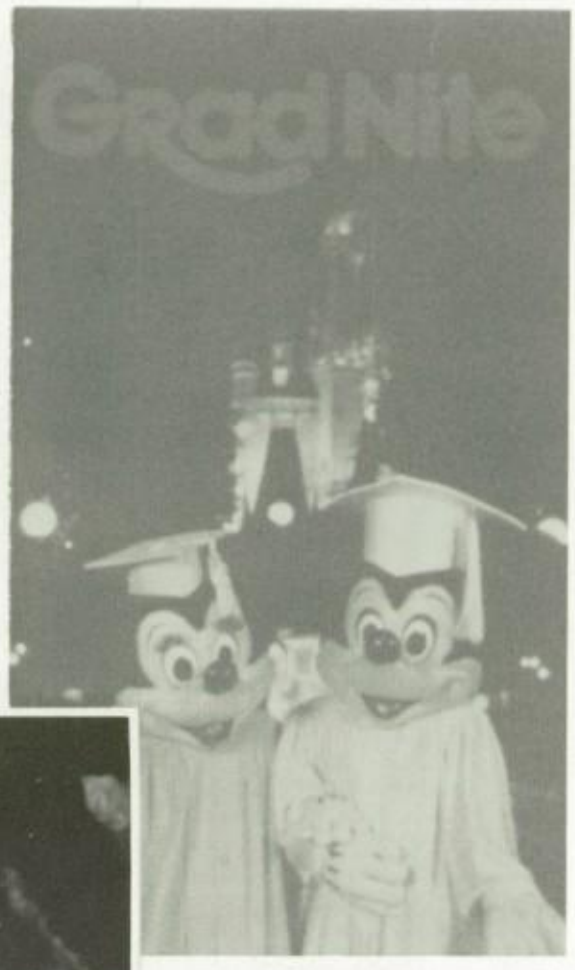
Grad Nite 86

Steve Soresi and Joanie Sartori brave the Sleeping Beauty attraction.



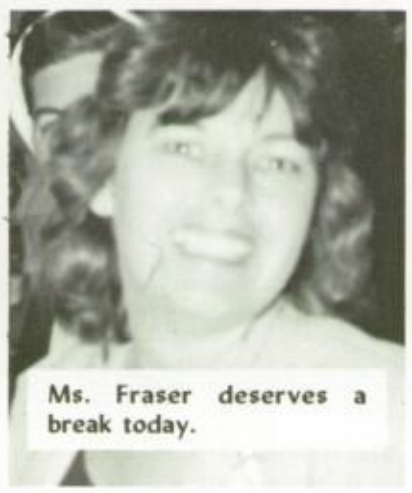
Grad Nite, made famous by Florida high schools, was the "all night long" party held at no other than Walt Disney World.

The seniors arrived at school to catch the buses that would bring them to the Magic Kingdom. This is where their adventures began! The whole class, packed in three buses traveling together, had themselves a convoy down I-75. McDonald's was in for a really big surprise when the one hundred anxious and starved students showed their faces at the counter, demanding and pleading for food.

When the seniors were happily nourished, they were ready to go on to the "partying park." The Walt Disney attractions were open to all the Florida seniors and even some senior classes from out of state. They traveled long hours and waited in long lines to ride the attractions. Musical entertainment was provided by Klymaxx, Starpoint, Animotion, Nu Shooz, and Ready-for-the-World, who performed all night long.

As the night drew to a close, a case of tired eyes spread throughout the park. Seniors boarded their buses. Some slept while some remained awake and partied all the way home. An all night long party as this is something the seniors will never forget.

Janet Reid, Nancy Ruscitto and Kelly Graves experience the "night of their lives".



Ms. Fraser deserves a break today.

2. Future Grandma Moses, Trina Dimino, getting ready to display her work.
3. Frank Izzo has a tough time untangling his knot.
4. Lee Mouhot demonstrates the correct method of hiding sleep in the classroom.
5. Sister Julie always has a smile on her face even while grading those wonderful Religion papers.
6. Jeff Hare and Nora Corrigan reminisce about the good 'ole Cardinal Mooney days.
7. Cardinal Mooney Chem-a-thoners show their true wisdom at the University of Tampa.

BACCLAUREATE

The Bacclaureate Liturgy has been a tradition for graduating seniors of Cardinal Mooney High School. The students come together to kneel, pray and sing for the last time as a class.

The graduates marched into St. Thomas More on May 28, 1986. The ceremony was con-celebrated by Father Mark Heuburger, school pastor, Father Richard Futy, giving the homily, and other area priests as well.

The Senior Awards Dinner was another end of the year activity for the graduating seniors. The valedictorian award went to Laura O'Riordan, while the salutatorian award was given to Dan Madison. The evening was a memorable event for all.

SENIOR AWARDS BANQUET

The Senior Awards Banquet on May 28, 1986 at the Hyatt Sarasota was another end of the year activity for the graduating seniors. After a chicken kiev dinner was served, seniors were awarded honors ranging from academic excellence to club participation to artistic endeavors. Many members of the Class of '86 were recipients of various scholarships. In addition, the 1985-86 Student Council Board was recognized for the first time with a plaque bearing their names and pictures.

The Outstanding Senior Awards went to Carolyn Rey and Patrick Long. The valedictorian award went to Laura O'Riordan who was first in the class boasting the highest GPA. Finishing second was Dan Madison who was honored with the salutatorian award. A slide show featuring the seniors and the memories of 1985-86 school year concluded the wonderful evening.

VALEDICTORY

Bishop Nevins, Fathers, Sr. Patricia, faculty, parents, friends, and fellow graduates:

I am highly honored to have been chosen to represent the Class of 1986 at Cardinal Mooney High School. I want to thank all of you, my teachers, the staff of Cardinal Mooney, and my classmates, from the bottom of my heart.

On behalf of the Class of 1986, I want to especially thank our teachers and the staff of Cardinal Mooney for helping make us what we are today. Without you, none of us would be where we are.

Of course, we all realize that our families have been behind us also. We know that the family is a sacred institution, although American teenagers may sometimes seem to forget that. But every one of us knows in our hearts that the family is more precious than gold, and we thank our parents for their years of love and support.

For my classmates, I think that we all realize that our graduation is not just the end of a phase of our lives, but a new beginning. We at Cardinal Mooney are especially fortunate. We have behind us the Catholic tradition of family unity, loyalty and belief in God to sustain us. We have the privilege of being supported not just by our families, but by a strong Church. We go into the real world with firm beliefs and goals.

Some of us are going directly into the working world where we will be confronted by the demands and injustices of life sooner than others. You will need to be especially strong and courageous, but remember that your friends, classmates and the Church are still supporting you. Hold fast to your goals and seek opportunity to advance yourselves.

Some of us are going on to further education. We must thank God and our families for the additional support and care. We must try to act in a worthy manner, remembering how much we will owe society for its nurturing of us.

Our world today is facing many unique problems, and I would like to think that each one of us graduating tonight will help solve those problems. Not one of us should ever become a burden or problem to our families or society after all the love and support we have had. This is a noble moment to think that each of us carries, like a small seed cupped within our hand, the ability to become someone important; someone of whom our families and school can be proud. I ask each of you to remember this: Do something great with your lives.

Remember, no matter which path toward life we are taking, let us try to make the world a better place. We know what to do by now. Now it is up to us to go out into the world and prove how good we are.

Thank you, and may God remain in all our hearts forever.

GRADUATION '86

Four years of hard work were culminated for well-deserving seniors when commencement exercises for Cardinal Mooney High School's class of 1986 were held on the evening of May 30, 1986 at 7:30 PM in Epiphany Catherdral, Venice. After the salutatorian and valedictorian addresses, Mr. John Imperatore delivered the commencement address. A prominent area businessman and graduate of Cardinal Mooney, Mr. Imperatore implored the graduates to remember to emphasize the three important qualities of confidence, commitment and dedication.

Sister Patricia, principal, then announced the name of each of the 122 seniors who were to receive diplomas. The congregation watched as each proud senior was presented his/her diploma by the Most Reverend John J. Nevins who also extended his congratulations. The ceremony was short and ended on a happy note as the graduates, together for the last time as a class, processed out to the triumphant notes of "Pomp and Circumstance". Commencement exercises were followed by a reception held in honor of the graduates by the CMHS Parents Club.

The class of '87 blossomed this year. Led by class moderator Mrs. Hankinson, Class President Shari Valensic, Vice-President Jim Grant and Secretary/Treasurer Dana Calamaras, the Juniors' contribution to the school included not only their traditional activities, but much, much more.

The enthusiastic Juniors' who excelled at all school events this year were especially active during Homecoming Week. In a contest to ornament the corridors of Cardinal Mooney's two main buildings for the occasion, the Juniors' decorations, following a Big City Nights theme, won first place.

The Junior class has always been in charge of the Junior/Senior Prom, and the Class of '87, under the direction of Karin Young, performed that responsibility with style. The '86 Prom followed a Japanese "Sayonara" theme, and the Juniors adorned Adami's ballroom in this year's theme colors, pink and burgandy, and decorated it with small models of cherry blossom trees, paper tropical fish, kimonos, paper fans, and parasols. All of the Juniors' work made the '86 Prom, in the words of senior Rina Alvarez, "a great time and a memorable night." One of the Junior class' greatest accomplishments was to design, produce, and sell, for the first time in our history, official Cardinal Mooney sweatshirts. With these sweatshirts, the Juniors created their own legacy that will continue for years to come. This year, the Class of '87 have taken their first steps toward graduating. They've taken the PSAT's, some have taken the SAT's; and their high school careers are reaching their finales. Junior year is a time of preparation, of growing and of new responsibilities. Each one participated in class and school activities in some way. As a result, both the school and the class benefited. With this year behind them, the Juniors are fully prepared to acccept the leadership and responsibilities of being seniors. As their Junior year has shown, the Class of '87 are a class with exceptional spirit and energy, and next year, will begin to fulfill the potential shown this year as they continue to "Strive with Pride."

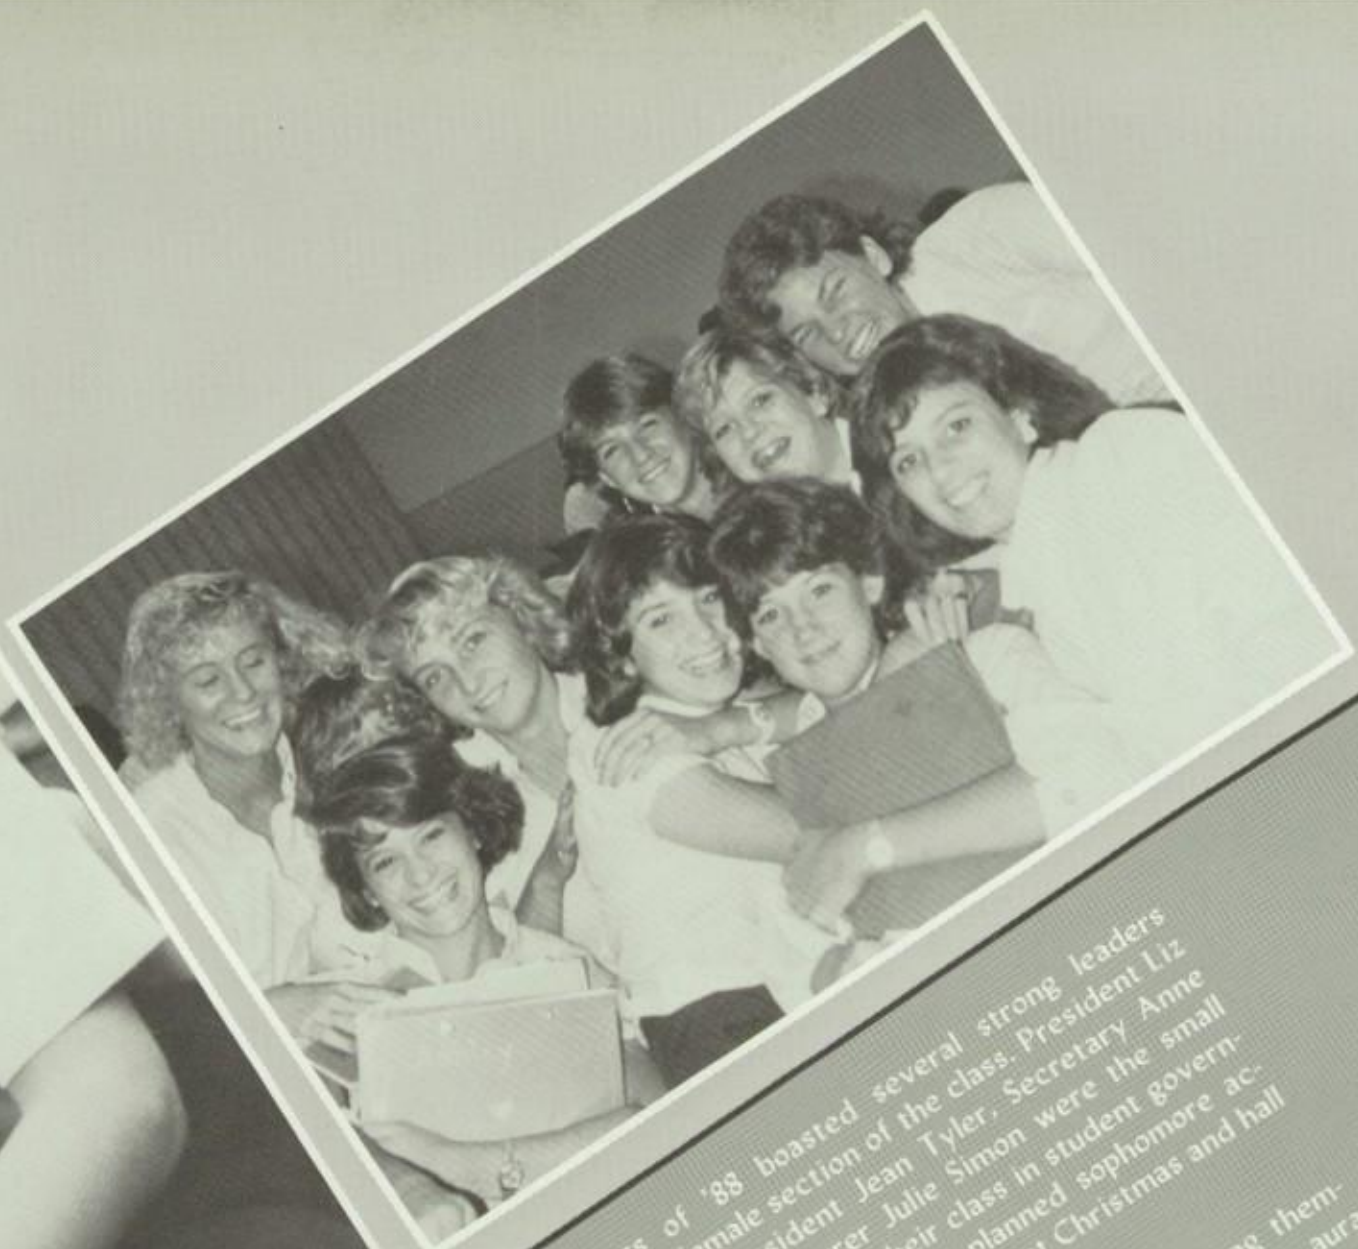
Sophomores, "wise fools" that they were, showed they were willing to assume responsibility and be more mature. No longer considered lowly freshmen, the Class of 1988 found their place at Cardinal Mooney and brought along with them their talents and gifts. These qualities established the personality of the class of a growing, learning, more knowledgeable group of young people.

The sophomore class became more involved in student activities: sports, student government, clubs and academics. The girls' volleyball team, led mainly by determined sophomores Mary Jo Dimino, Molly Gaffney, Teri Howells, Stacey Lesmerises and Margie Fox, has had a triumphant season as did the j.v. football team and the soccer team.



The class of '88 boasted several strong leaders among the female section of the class. President Liz Soscia, Vice-president Jean Tyler, Secretary Anne Johnson and Treasurer Julie Simon were the small group of girls who led their class in student government. They organized and planned sophomore activities such a door decorating at Christmas and hall decorating for Halloween.

The Class of '88 had a special bond among themselves. The closeness of friends left a certain aura that was felt by many, and left an impact on those who encountered the Class of '88.

Freshmen at Mooney follow the pattern of all young people entering the next challenge in life. They have the same fear, hopes, anxiety and expectation about the future. Long halls, upstairs and downstairs, eleven buildings, football, soccer and baseball fields, and thirty acres of campus sometimes overwhelm the frosh. "Where is Room 206?" is a common question. Sometimes a playful upper classman will direct a student to the wrong building. And there are two 107's — one in the new building and one that is in one of the portables.

The feeling of newness does not last too long, however, and freshmen soon fit in. The seniors, which all freshman hope to be, help make the frosh feel welcome with Senior — Freshman Beach Day. Every ninth-grader is paired with a Senior to enjoy a funfilled day at the beach. Frosh soon become more at ease and comfortable with their surroundings and schedules at Cardinal Mooney and are ready to make their future successful.

The Freshman Class Officers were President Julie Soscia, Vice President Jennifer Santiago, Secretary Kathryn Grant, and Treasurer Molly Browning. The officers led the freshmen in becoming an integral part of the school community with true Mooney spirit by organizing the Homecoming Pep Ralley, making Valentine's Day more enjoyable with a bake sale, by showering gifts in their concern for SOLVE'S unwed mothers, and participating in the hall decorating contest.

Freshmen seem to have met the challenge — they have grown physically, emotionally, intellectually, spiritually and socially.

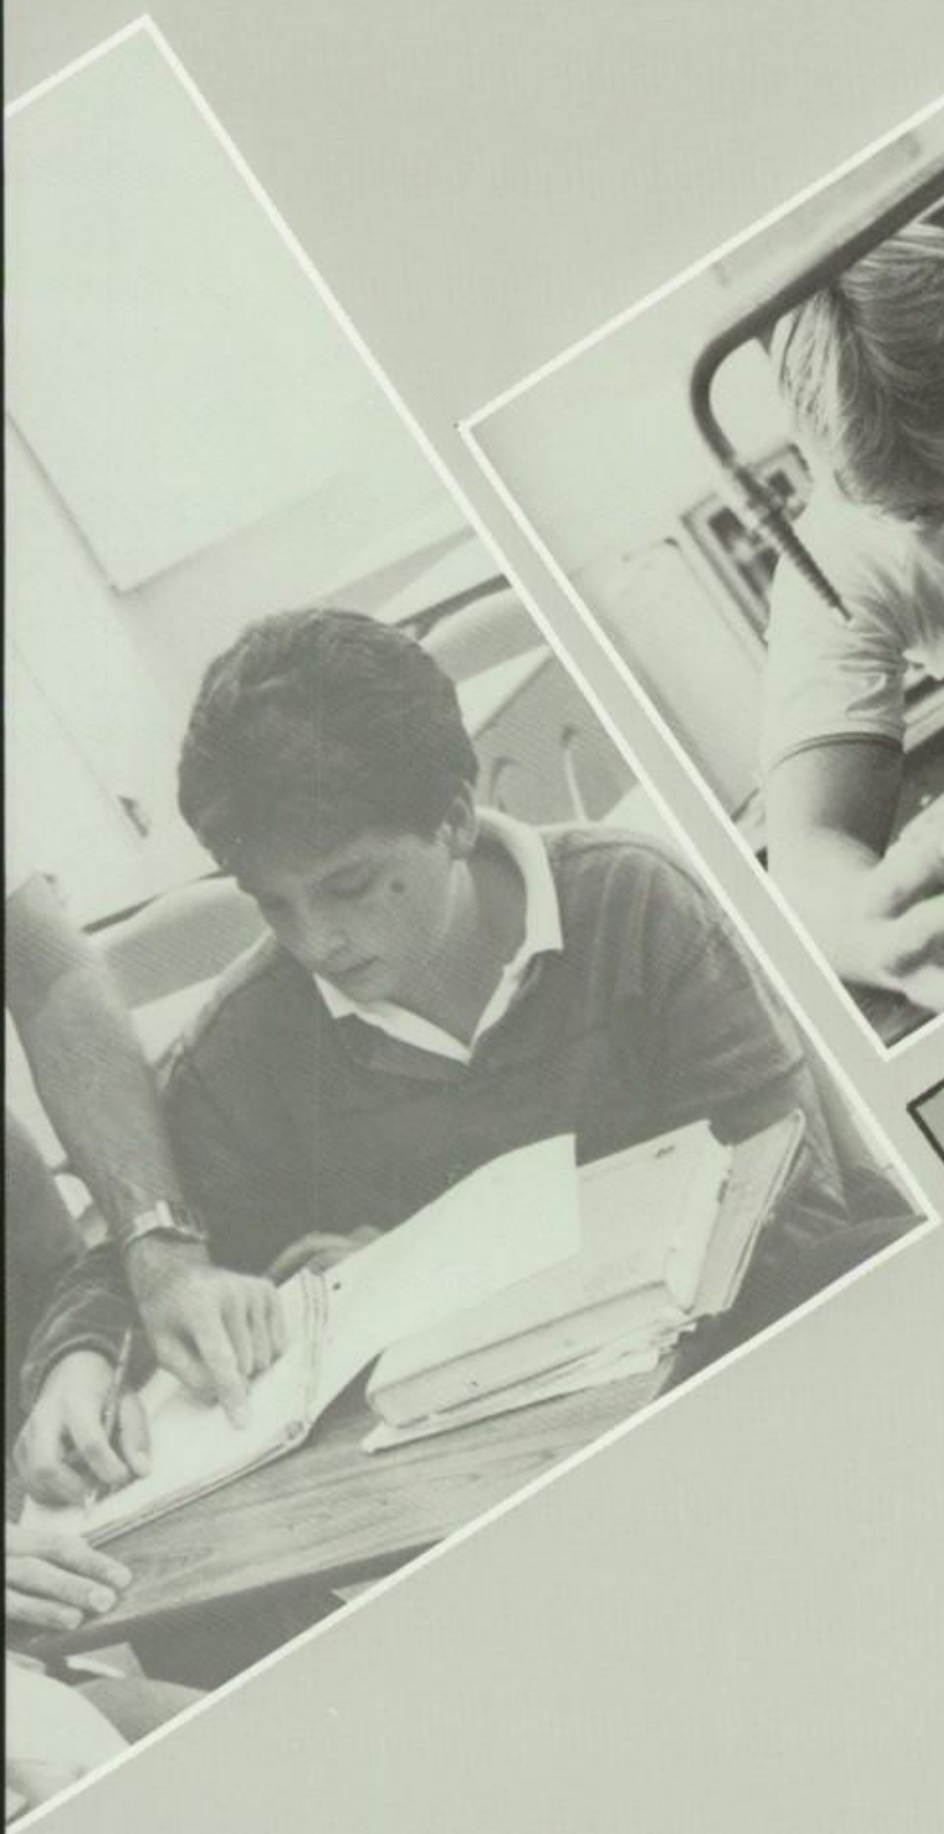
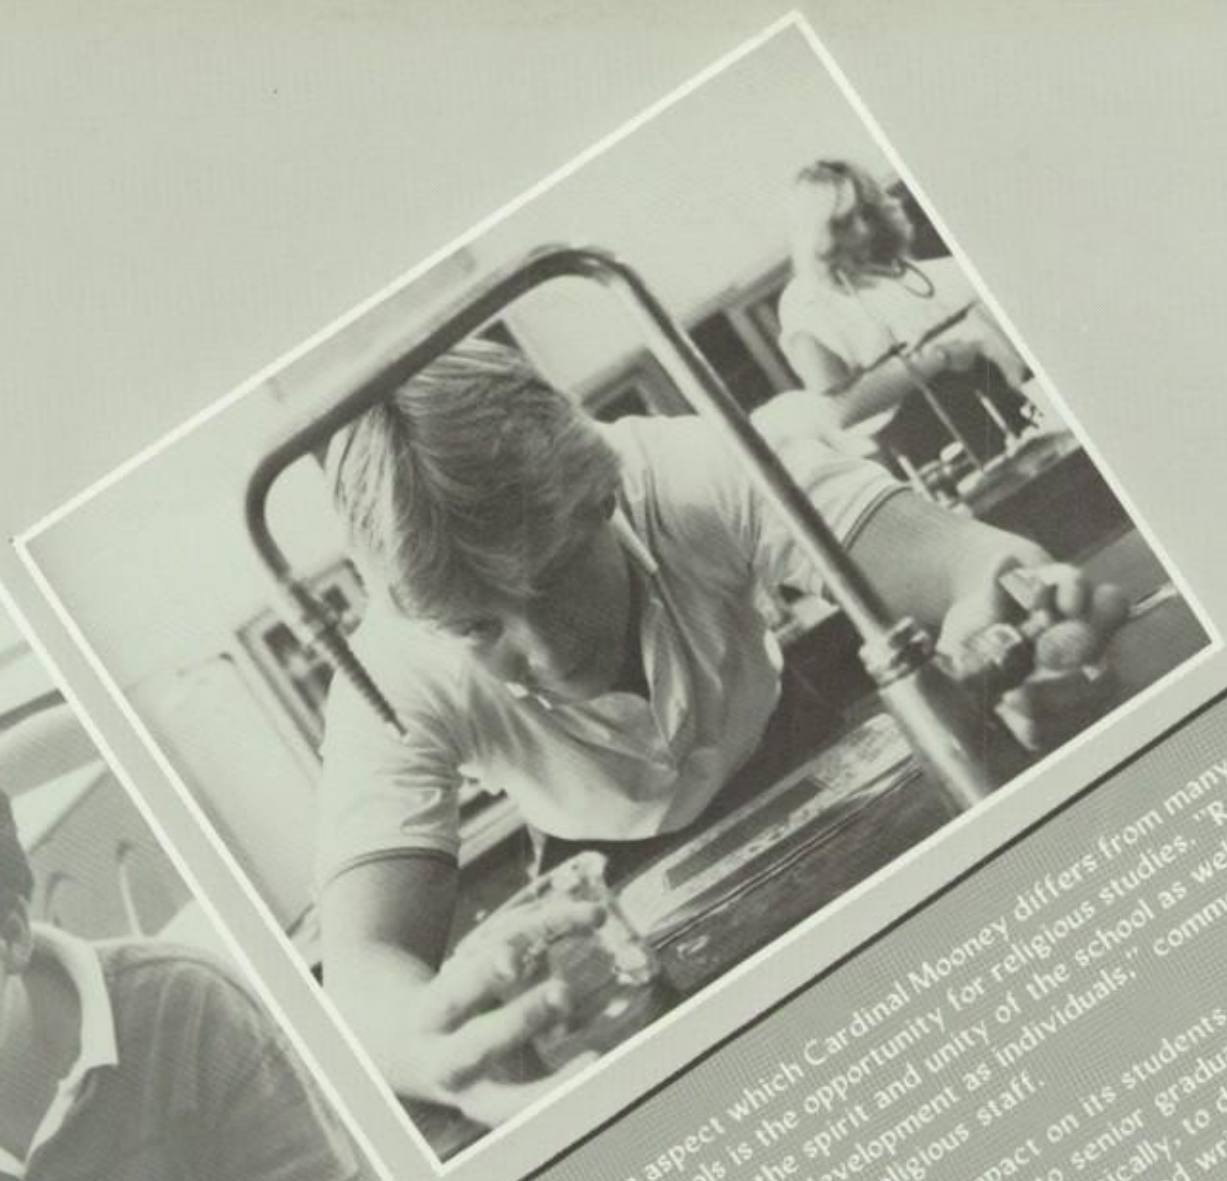
Academics, as defined by Webster's Dictionary, is "having to do with general or liberal education". Academics at Cardinal Mooney is the very purpose which binds all the students together. Parents strive to procure a quality education, one which is personal, religious and spirited.

The school offers many courses to the individual. During the four years at Mooney, the student will take many English, history, math, science and religion courses which will develop his learning capability to its highest potential.





The one aspect which Cardinal Mooney differs from many other schools is the opportunity for religious studies. "Religion adds to the spirit and unity of the school as well as to the students' development as individuals," commented one teacher of the religious staff.

Academics has a strong impact on its students. From the first week of freshman year to senior graduation, a student will have learned to think logically, to discipline himself and to express himself in oral and written form. The impact of Mooney is a beauty mark developed on a student through his stay at Mooney and is carried with him throughout his life.

1. Sister Mary Margaret Joseph with her extensive knowledge of the New Testament, assists a struggling sophomore.
2. Mr. Niesiobedski explains to the juniors the church's history during the time of Pope Philip II's papacy.
3. Father Mark emphasizes to the freshmen the importance of the Old Testament in the Catholic religion.
4. Kevin Adams is pleased knowing he had the right answers on the religion test.
5. Frank Izzo and Colleen Riley perform a skit in religion showing how social injustice affects peoples' daily lives.
6. Nancy Ruscitto gives Wayne Paschke a big, friendly hug.
7. John Trigg studies biblical quotes of the Old Testament and the New Testament.
8. Sister Mary Neil has group discussions in Christian Lifestyles which deal with the importance of God in our lives.

The Religion Department that is found in Cardinal Mooney is the main difference that separates the school from many others. From the very beginning of a student's stay with Cardinal Mooney, religion is emphasized.

Starting as a freshman, a student will take a course in the Old and New Testaments. Then as a sophomore, a student will further his study on the New Testament, also venturing into Morality. As a junior, a student takes a semester in Church History and a semester in Christian Lifestyle. Finally as a senior, a student takes Social Justice, Death and Dying and Morality II and Marriage.

Each of these semester courses is designed to develop the students of Cardinal Mooney and to make the students more aware and informed on the Catholic church's origin, teachings and moral standings. It is the religious aspect of Cardinal Mooney that ties the student body together and brings out the Mooney spirit.

FOREIGN LANGUAGES

Foreign Languages at Cardinal Mooney offer cultural knowledge and experience to the students. The school gives students the opportunities to take Spanish and French classes. Each class goes into an indepth study of the culture, history, and vocabulary of the language. Mrs. Prestamo teaches Spanish and Mrs. Buri teaches French. Both of these teachers have their classes participate in "cultural experiences." These experiences help the students to understand and appreciate the language and culture of France and Spain. Also with more and more colleges strongly recommending a foreign language credit, students are encouraged to venture into the Spanish and French classes. Each class goes from the very basics in the first year to extensive oral and written essays in the third and fourth years. Cardinal Mooney's foreign languages open a whole new world to its students in giving them the chance to see the language and lifestyles of people in other countries.

2. Everyone listens as Mrs. Buri gives some information on France.
3. Mrs. Prestamo gives words of encouragement to Daniel Joy.
4. Melinda Bombar looks on as Mrs. Prestamo grades her Spanish essay.
5. A smiling Jeri Howells reads her French magazine.

FINE ARTS

Cardinal Mooney's Fine Arts include various classes: Chorus, Band, Music Theory and Art. The courses developed at Mooney bring out the talents students possess. Chorus usually consists of freshmen and sophomores, along with a few talented juniors and seniors. Band is a class for students who wish to further develop their musical skills. Music Theory helps students to appreciate the fine art of music as well as to compose it. Throughout the year, chorus and band members put on concerts. In Art, students begin as first year novices and progress to fourth year as developed and refined artists. Art students get many chances to have their masterpieces displayed in art shows and judged in scholarship competitions. The Fine Arts at Cardinal Mooney opens students to a new perspective of school, one of appreciation in culture, music and art.

1. The sophomore chorus listens as Mr. Alberigo goes over the music.
2. Mrs. Brown smiles at Dione Johnson's new creation.
3. Tabitha Cosper concentrates on her musical notes.
4. Lisa Haylett gets creative in Art class.

LANGUAGE ARTS

1. Laura Wermann, a junior, works diligently on her English essay.
2. Mrs. Halstead teaches a freshman English class the fine points of grammar.
3. Mrs. Tate points out a grammatical error to Mark Paolillo.
4. Mrs. Kuklewski teaches A.P. English students the literary talent Shakespeare exhibits in his plays.
5. Angela Giorgianni smiles with pleasing satisfaction at a job well done.
6. Mr. Niesiobedzki explains to juniors the types of verbs and their functions in the English language.
7. Freshman English students quietly pay attention to Mrs. Halstead's words of wisdom.
8. Mrs. Scafa enlightens sophomores to the great literary works of famous American writers.
9. Angela Zinn displays her creativity while having fun with Tony Boothy, Tracy Adams, and Amy Wright in Creative Writing class.

The Language Arts Department offers courses at Cardinal Mooney that introduce students to study a wide variety of culture to expand their grammatical skills and to analyze the history of English and American literature. Mrs. Scafa, head of the department, submitted a quote from an unknown author which she found to be very inspirational. "The secret of teaching is to appear to have known all your life what you learned this afternoon."

Language Arts involve many courses ranging from English classes to Humanities to Creative Writing. This is the first year Cardinal Mooney is offering A.P. English. This honors course is designed to be similiar to a college course in analyzing literary works and developing the students' techniques for writing. Humanities is the one department course that goes back centuries to study the literary and artistic work of historical geniuses of writing. This year the Creative Writing class is in charge of the Cardinal Mooney literary magazine, Vital Signs. The course itself nurtures and inspires students to their maximum potential of imagination.

The Language Arts Department holds a firm foundation in Cardinal Mooney's curriculum. The courses introduce students to the many facets of the English language and carry through to the finale of the Senior year, the infamous term paper.

MATHEMATICS

I. Ms. Kolb helps her Algebra II students reach the right answer.
2. Joe Galenek works diligently in his Algebra II-Trigonometry class.
3. Mrs. Pardo teaches Modified Geometry as well as Modified Algebra.
4. Sr. Julie quizzes her Algebra II class on their knowledge of quadratic equations.
5. Mr. Morusiewicz concentrates on grading his students Pre-Calculus tests.
6. Mrs. Hankinson tries to illustrate a right triangle with her hand in Geometry class.
7. Sr. Julie gives Carolyn Rey some assistance in her independent Math study.
8. Modified Algebra students listen carefully to understand the many concepts of the course.
9. Bret Mohrmann gets some advice in Geometry from Mrs. Pardo.

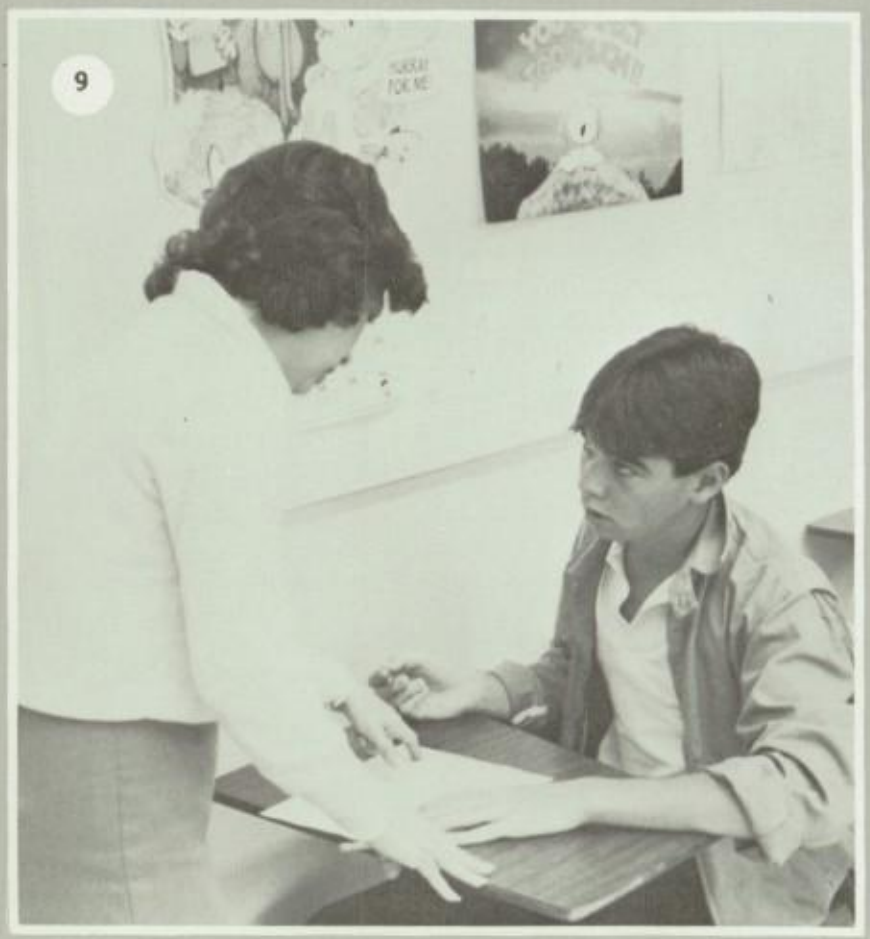
The Math Department this year was headed by Mr. Morusiewicz who teaches Mooney's sought-after but dreaded Pre-Calculus. There was an influx of math-minded students into the more difficult math classes.

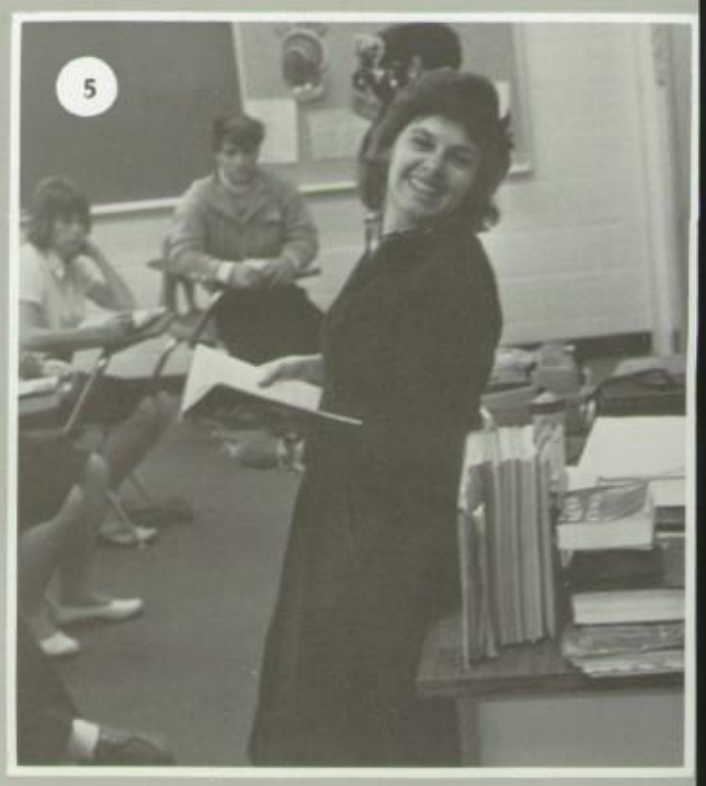
The raising of state standards had much to do with the students' serious attention to mathematics in general. One great advantage is the way the classes are organized and divided. Each of them is designed to challenge students to their fullest learning potential.

Because the very purpose of mathematics is to enable students to think in a logical step by step manner, all make progress whether they wish to further their education or just solve practical everyday problems.



BUSINESS

At Cardinal Mooney, Business classes such as Accounting, Business Law and Record Keeping are important supplements to the academic curriculum. These classes provide the necessary background for those students upon leaving Mooney who wish to pursue a career in the world of business. In addition, typing classes are also offered to those who like to improve their speed and skills. The business aspect adds to the curriculum an allowance for students to venture into a variety of classes.



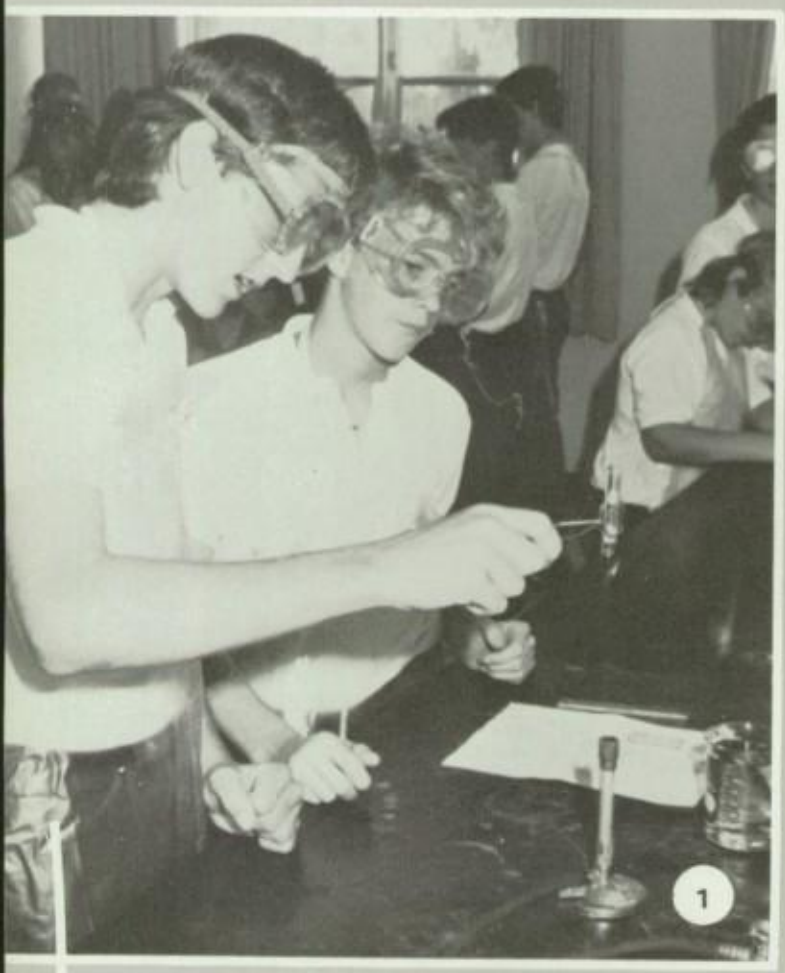
1. Mrs. Anderson teaches the necessary typing skills that every student should know.
2. Ms. Fraser gives the answers to her Business Law class.
3. Robert Lew and Anne Johnson work diligently on their typing time.
4. Janice Dunlavey, Nancy Ruscitto and Jeri Howells concentrate on perfecting their typing skills.
5. Ms. Fraser smiles for the camera.

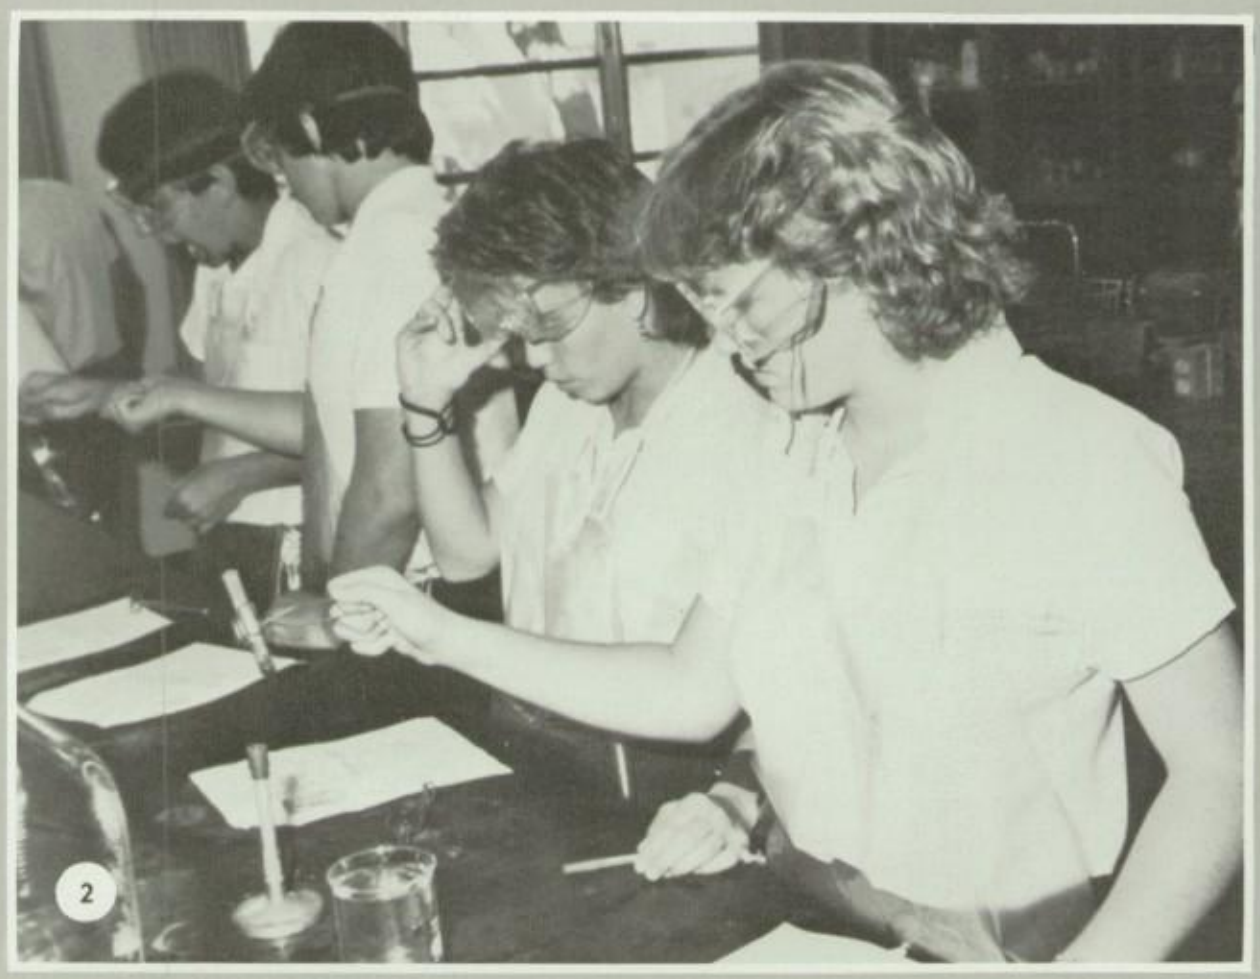
ACADEMIC OLYMPICS

1. Shari Valencic, Russ Peterson and Molly Greer try to answer a tough history question.
2. Academic Olympics club members test their knowledge of some English Literature questions.
3. Mrs. Scafa is the head supervisor of Academic Olympics.
4. In a match, all the team members put their heads together to come up with the right answer.
5. The Academic Olympics team takes a short break during their match at the fair.
6. Mrs. Scafa quizzes some of the club members on some difficult math problems.

This year was a growing one for the Academic Olympics team. The team did have one good solid victory against Sarasota High School. Though many of their matches did not end in victory, the team is still young and will have many members returning next year, thus making the future team more prepared and mentally more alert. The Academic Olympics adviser is Mrs. Scafa, who organizes practices and makes sure that the students know their material. Questions in a match range from those of Humanities and Literature to Physics and Trigonometry. Academic Olympics gives students the opportunity to test their knowledge against one another and to work as a team.

NATURAL SCIENCES





1. Dean Calamaras and lab partner conduct an experiment in Physical Science.
2. Michelle Cook and Niki Kain follow lab procedures with precise skill.
3. The Environmental Science class experiments with gas fumes and their effects on the environment.
4. Mr. Mauck shows Suzanne Savageau the simplicty in using a computer for chemistry problems.
5. Mr. Listwan lectures on the basic concepts of science to the freshmen.
6. Mr. Mauck peps up to explain those complex formulas to his A.P. Chemistry class.
7. Tim Tyler, Ron Sherwood, Fred Grailer and Rob Morandi are on the loose in the chemistry lab.
8. Doug Battaglia and Chris Keeler have fun dissecting a worm in Biology.
9. Mr. Listwan explains the experiment to Rosie Figlesthaler and John Walsh.
10. Laura O'Riorden and Lori Vollmer carefully record their accurate measurements.

Cardinal Mooney not only offers all the standard requirements of science courses, but also a wide assortment of classes for those students interested in the exciting world of science and technology.

These classes include Physical Science, Biology, Chemistry, Physics, Earth Science, Environmental Science and Anatomy and Physiology.

This year an Advanced Placement Chemistry class was offered to the students for the first time. The class used college texts and was conducted like a college course. "It takes a lot of time and effort. It's something that you can use in college and the three-a-week lab sessions are a good experience," says senior Jenny Lee.

The Science Department at Cardinal Mooney develops a well-rounded sense of one's environment and oneself.

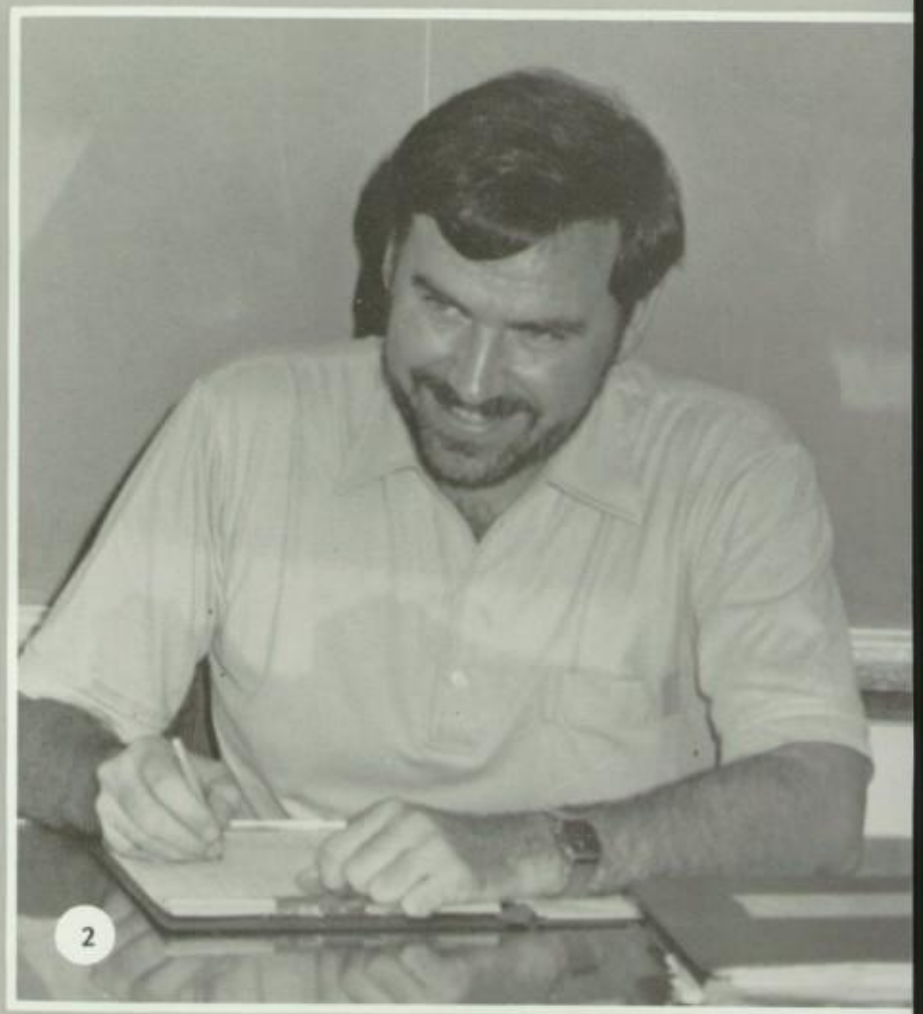
SOCIAL STUDIES



1. Mike Hays, Shari Valencic, Jim Grant and Dana Calamaras discuss the effects of the Industrial Revolution in America.
2. Mr. McDonald, who teaches Senior Social Studies, smiles for the camera.
3. Steve Gruse works diligently to finish his government home-work.
4. Bill Culbreath and Michelle Bianchi watch Miss Timmel grade their U.S. History tests.
5. Miss Martinko shows Nora Corrigan how to read the stock market prices.
6. Mike Schott hands in his History test.
7. Mr. Fottler finishes up writing his Senior Social Studies test for his classes.
8. "Now let's say this ... crusades were an important influence during the Renaissance."
9. Ann Bebon concentrates on taking good notes.

Social Studies at Mooney includes World Culture, U.S. History, Senior Social Studies, Current Events and new this year, Advanced Placement U.S. History. Each course builds the students' knowledge of the past events that shaped history and the present events which will lead to an improved society. In order to graduate, students need three social studies credits. With the addition of A.P. History, students now have more of a variety of courses to choose from and have more of an opportunity to strive for higher goals. Mooney provides a good Social Studies program which prepares all the students to be responsible and informed citizens.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

The Physical Education Department has done well this year. For all freshman classes, girls and boys, this course is required, whereas the sophomores only must take half a year. Miss Martinko and Mr. Donivan, both of whom are the teachers, instruct students, not only in physical fitness and health, but also in cooperation, sportsmanship and intellectual knowledge. The purpose of Physical Education is to involve students in learning their personal health, and hopefully getting them to enjoy sporting activities and see them as something that is fun.

1. Miss Martino explains the importance of healthy cardiovascular fitness.
2. Mr. Donivan teaches physical education to the Freshman boys and others who enjoy the course.
3. Freshman girls learn the rules and tactics of volleyball.
4. Basketball is always a favorite among the choices the boys like to play.
5. Physical Education involves not only doing, but also thinking.

YEARBOOK

1. Carolyn Rey, the yearbook editor, works diligently to finish cropping her pictures.
2. The Academic section gets organized to meet their deadlines.
3. Michele Longwell brainstorms for new ideas.
4. Sister Neil, the yearbook adviser, shows the class how to properly crop a picture.
5. Jan Kernahan and Mary Blaikie work together in writing copy.

In Publications, students learn the "ins" and "outs" on how to put together a great yearbook. This year, Carolyn Rey is co-editor with Jenny Lee. Carolyn is in charge of looking after the body frame of the Prince, while Jenny takes care of the business aspect. Once again, Sister Neil is the yearbook adviser, who instructs the students in the many ways to create a better book. This year, the theme of the yearbook is Impact. It is an appropriate theme to show the impact Mooney has on our lives. Trina Domino, who is part of this year's Prince staff says, "It's a good preparation for the business world."

From the conception of the school organized sports have existed here at Cardinal Mooney. In 1959, the school's first year, Athletic Director John Heath organized three sports teams: boy's football, basketball and baseball. All the teams were J.V. since CMHS had only 9th and 10th grade that year. The football team fielded 37 out of 53 boys enrolled in the school and started the season impressively with wins over Arcadia and Bishop Barry High School of St. Petersburg in their first three games.

Girls' sports got off to a slower start at Cardinal Mooney with the first teams in 1974. Girls' basketball and softball began that year and were coached by Mr. Muershbacher and Mr. Reid respectively.

Today, Cardinal Mooney sports 12 boys' teams and 9 girls' teams. The teams range from the longstanding football, basketball and baseball teams to weightlifting and soccer. From the beginning of the school year until final exams, a Cardinal Mooney team is participating and fans are cheering.

1. Varsity and J.V. Cheerleaders unite forces to charge the student body with electrifying spirit leading into the Homecoming Game.
2. Seniors Carolyn Chalfant, Angela Giorgianni, Dena Loria cheer the team in Mooney fashion during a football game.
3. Runners Kevin McNeary and Ken Piotrowski sprint towards the excellence for which they strive.

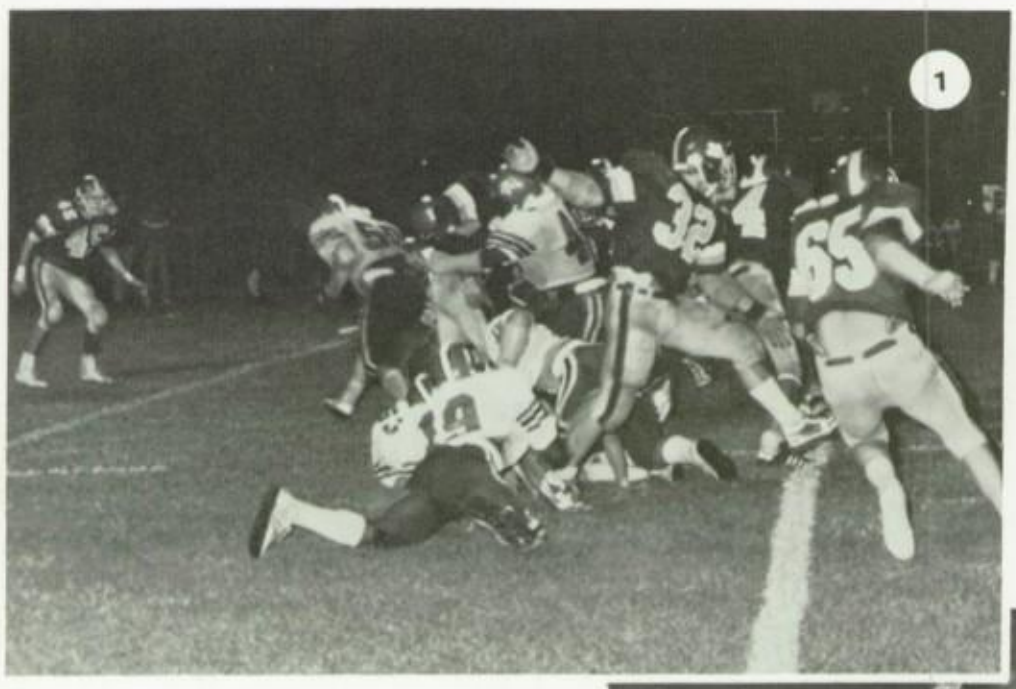
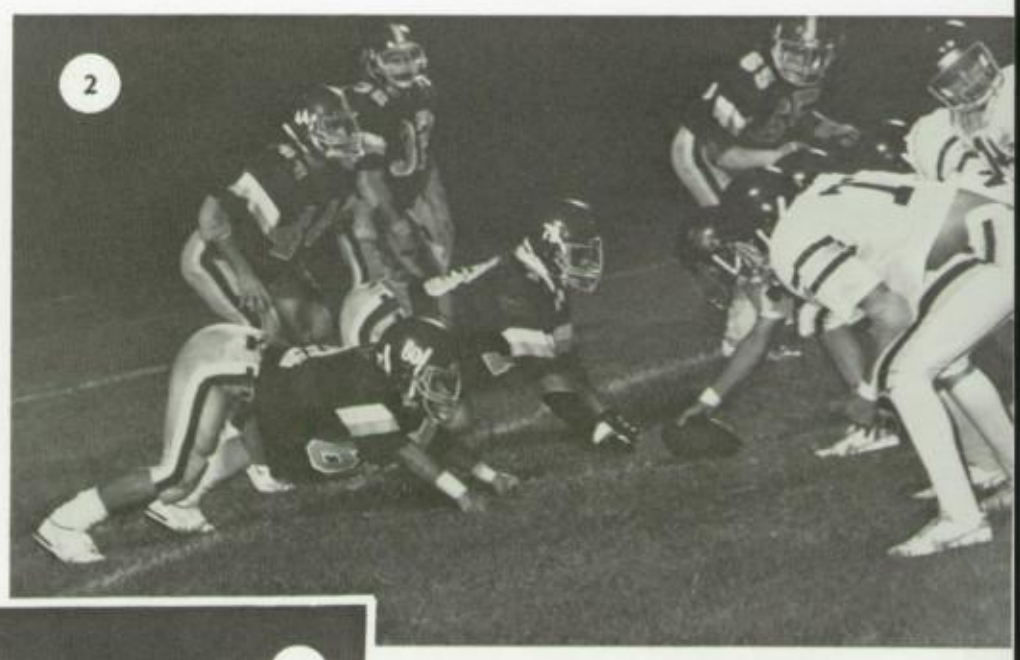
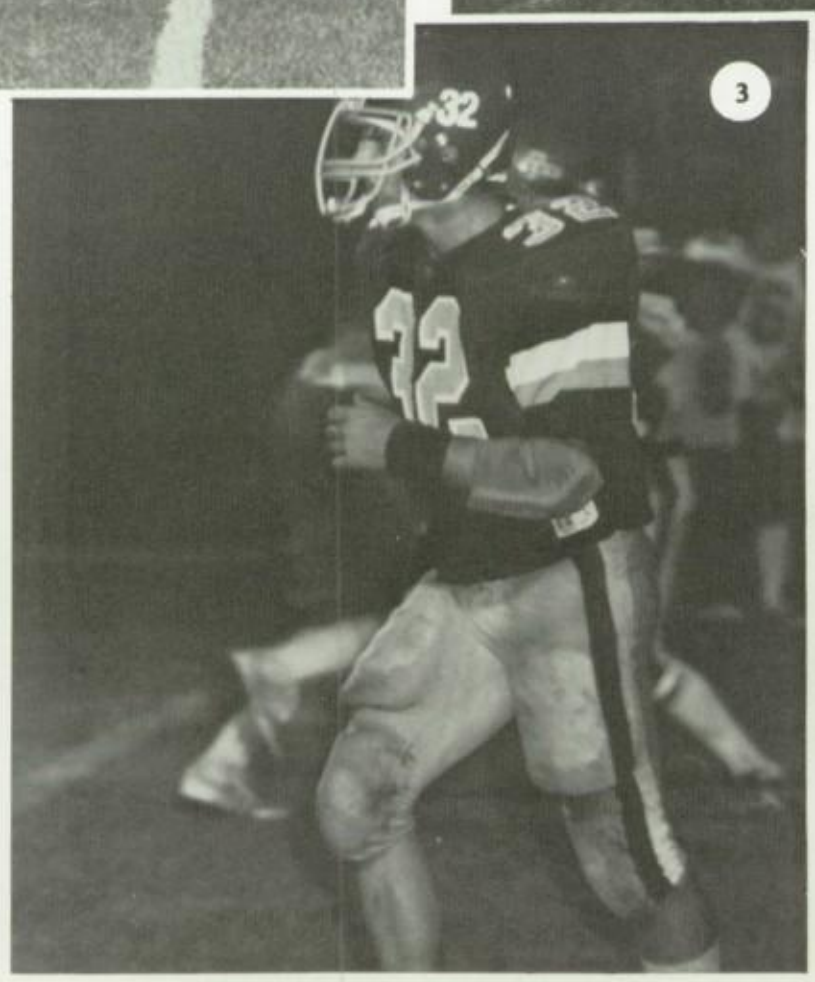
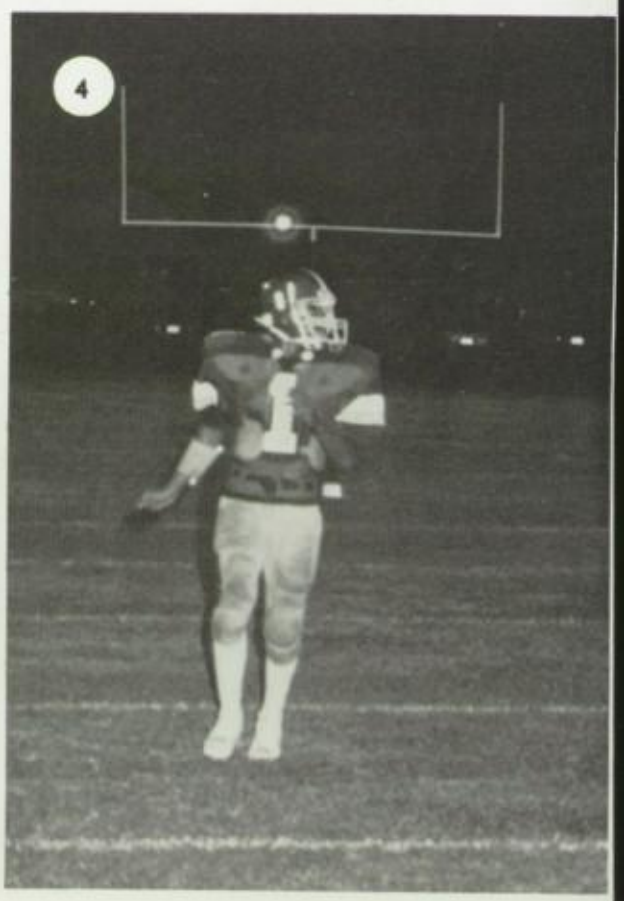
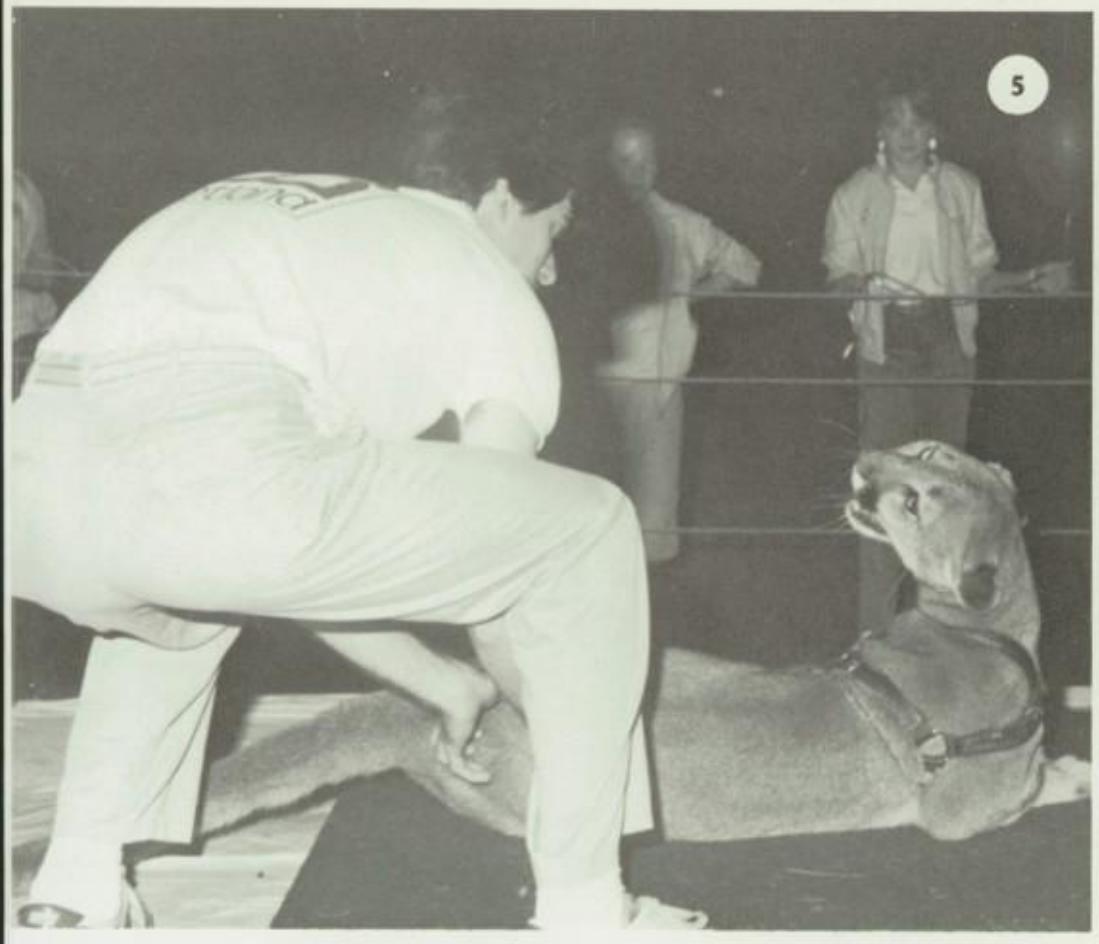
VARSITY FOOTBALL . . . . . .

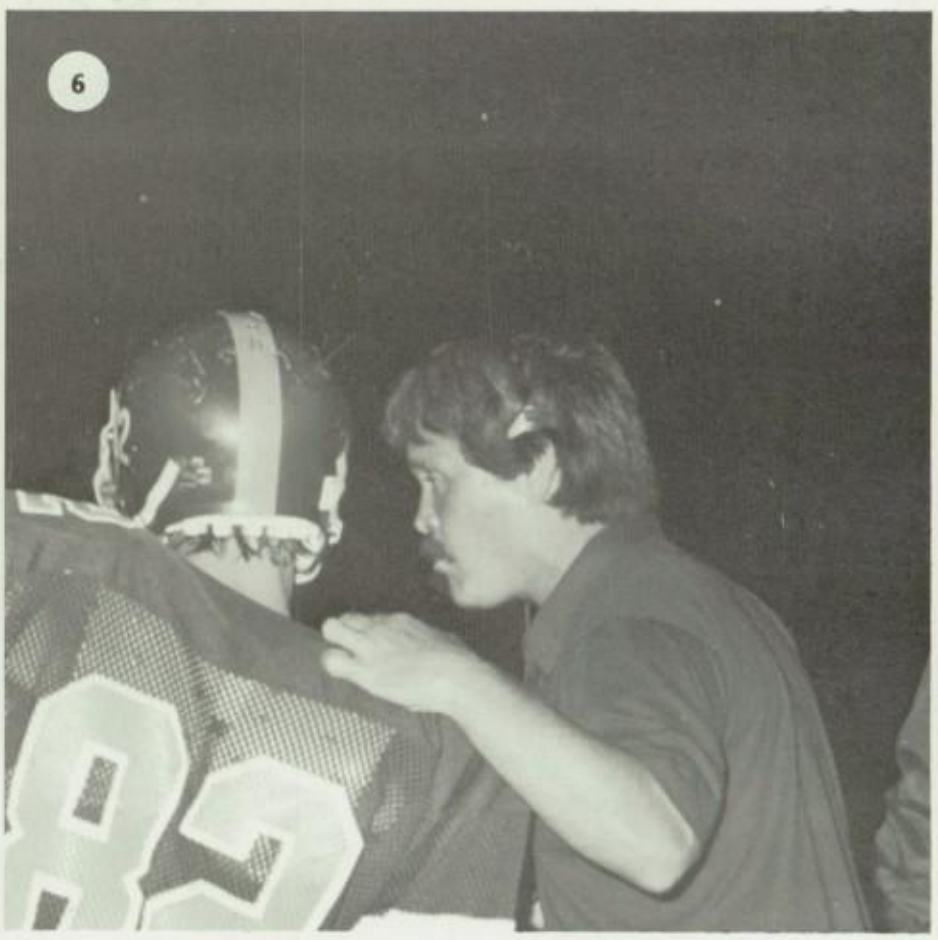












The Cardinal Mooney football team finished the season with a respectable 6-4 season against the toughest schedule in this school's history. The Cougars has an awesome passing attack in the area which was led by Eric Schuetz. He completed 85 of 146 passes for 1,229 yards and 14 touchdowns. His major receivers were Dexter Austin and Mike Culbreath, who were the area's number 1 and 2 receivers. Dexter Austin was fourth in the area with touchdowns and led the Cougars in scoring, despite being double and triple team all season. Ron Sherwood ran for a team-leading 862 yards, assisted by an impressive offensive line which consisted of Fred Grailer, Dave Murphy, Steve Gruse, juniors Darryl Raulerson and Joe Galanek, and sophomore Jeff Larick contributed immensely to this offensive line.

The two major highlights of the season were the defeat of District Champion Palmetto Tigers and the recovery of the two-school rivalry plaque by defeating Bishop Verot. These two great highlights needed great individual Cougar effort. These players were recognized all over the area. Q-105 radio station awarded Eric Schuetz player of the week, and the Sarasota Herald-Tribune recognized Eric Schuetz, Dave Rosenberg, Ron Sherwood, and Dexter Austin as outstanding players throughout this season.

"The Cougars were very young and with the addition of the 7-1 J.V., Cougar players look for great things from the 1986 Cougars," observed Coach Dowling.

The 1985 Cardinal Mooney J.V. football team "won their first and last games in overtime and showed true determination until the grueling end," said Coach Anthony Lovallo. This was also apparent in a last second thriller against CCC, in which the Cougars were trailing from the beginning of the first quarter.

Domination of the defensive squad was evident in 4 of the 8 games in which the Cougars shut out their opponents. The offense, not to be outdone, ignited over rival St. Pete Catholic by accumulating 45 points in a mere 48 minutes. The awesome combination of the stifling defense and an uncontrollable offense caused the Cougars to outscore their opponents 154 to 62.

J.V. VOLLEYBALL

"Rebuilding for the future" is how Coach Bill Donivan described this year's cross country team. Composed of mostly freshmen and sophomores, the team gained valuable experience and improved their individual times.

"Potential greats" freshmen Kevin McNeary and Dean Calamaras had the best times for the 3-mile course. Next year these boys hope to be serious contenders for the district meet.

The girls' team was small in number but big in spirit. Enthusiastic sophomore Kim Gordon was the driving force behind the team, and kept everyone's spirits high.

This year's track team, composed of mostly sophomores and freshmen gained valuable experience in preparing for future meets. Junior long-jumper Dana Calamaras rallied the team to always try their hardest and give their best. Senior stand'out Tom Towland set a new school record for the 880 meters and earned a spot in the state meet.

1. Tim Mihm sprints hard in the 100 meters.
2. Geoff Quisenberry hops the hurdles.
3. Tom Rowland triple-jumps.
4. Rosie Figlesthaler finishes the 880 in her best time.
5. Marlena Minster shows great drive and potential to excel in the 100 meters.

Our season has to be considered a tremendous success. We established ourselves in season, tournament and district competition against a very tough schedule." This is how coach Tony McDonald feels about this year's varsity baseball team. The team finished the season with a 15-12 record and a team batting average of .303. Senior Jim Britton led the team with a .452 batting average and was voted Most Valuable Player. The team shut out Clearwater Central Catholic in the District semi-final, but was unfortunately beat by Tampa Catholic 4-3 in the finals.

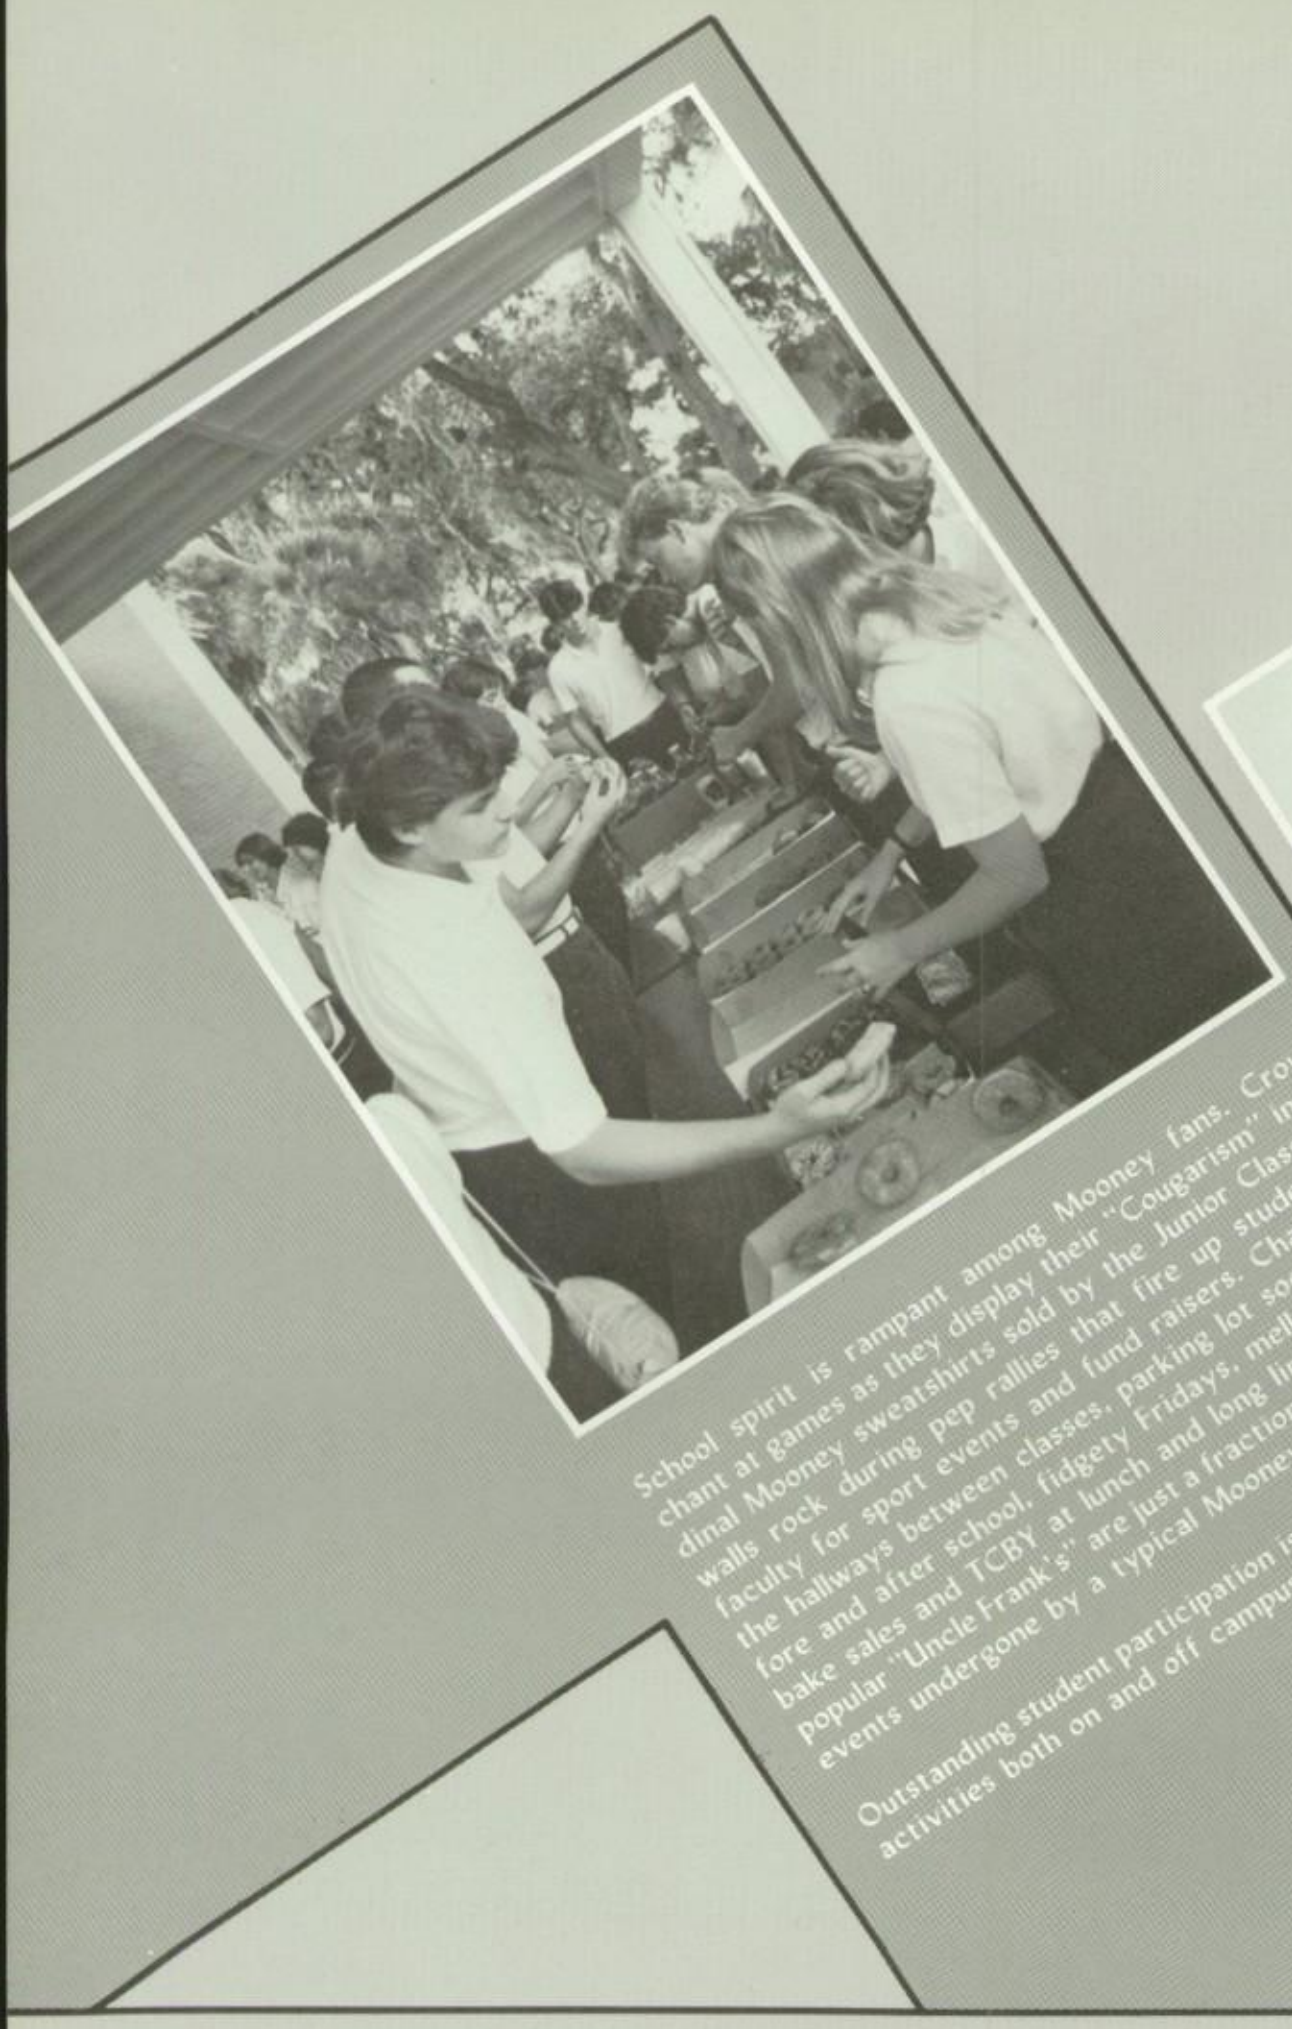
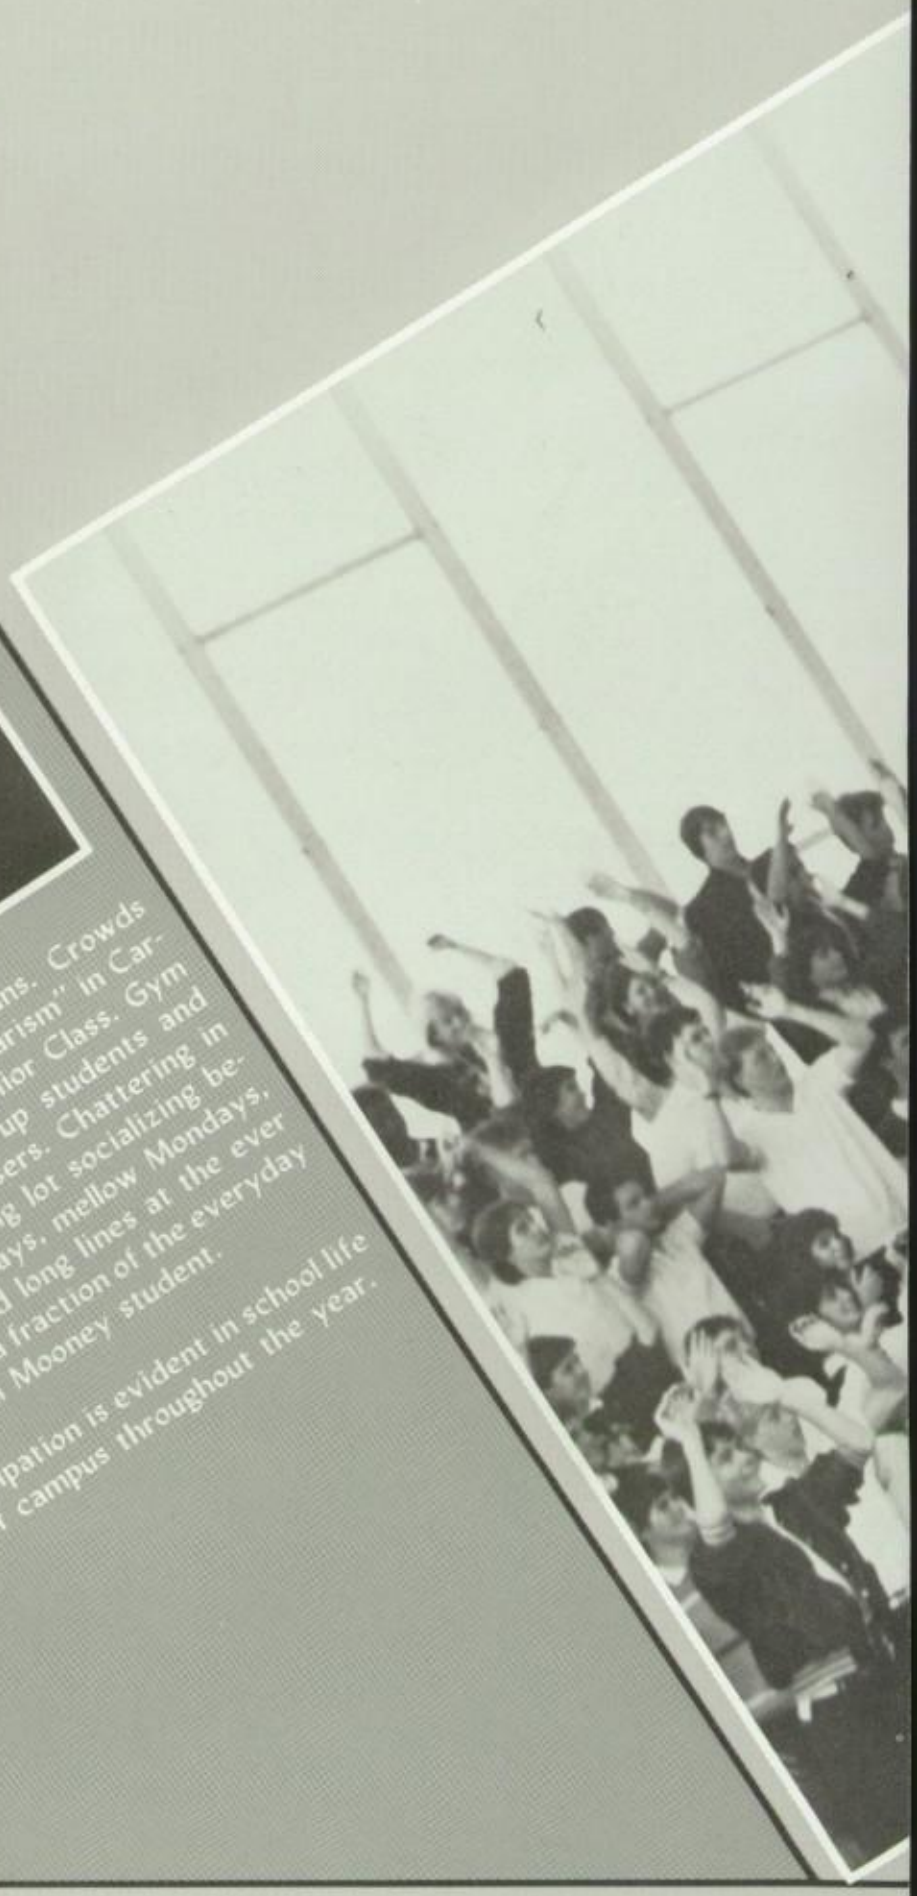
WRAP-UP

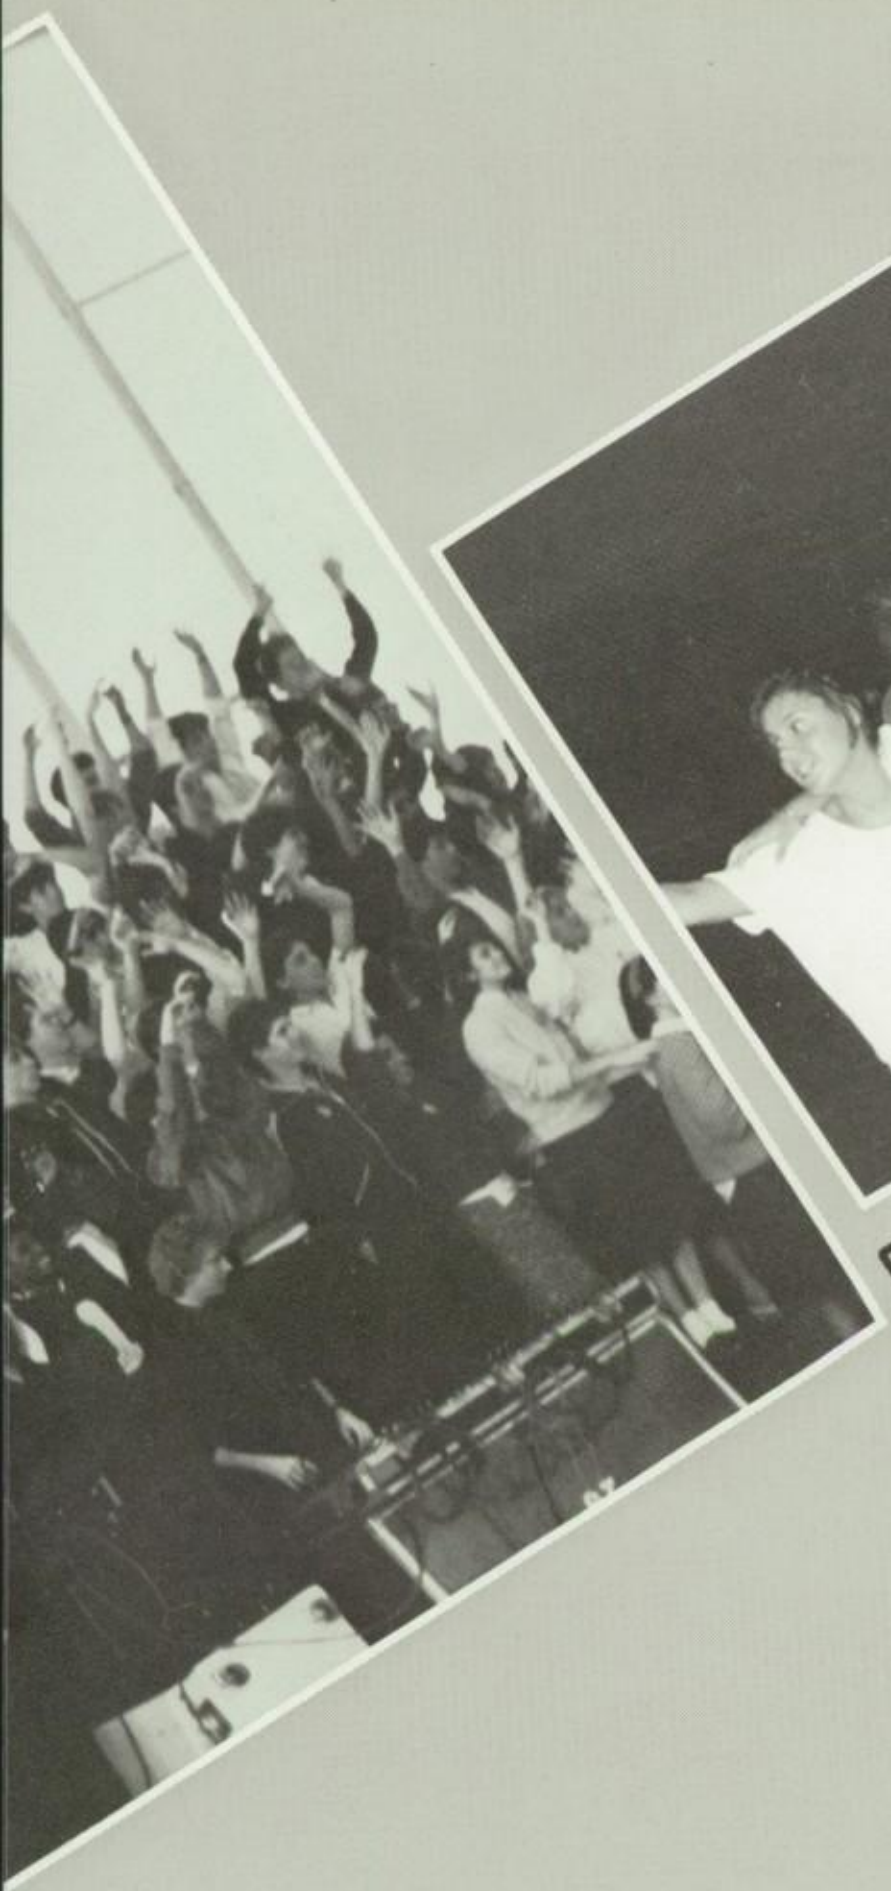
The 1985-86 Cardinal Mooney school year was an exciting, fast-paced 9 months. Groups of students huddled around coaches relentlessly struggling to continue the proud Mooney athletic tradition. Their striving reaped a great harvest this year. Their time, sweat, and tears resulted in cheers, a sense of pride, and self-satisfaction of their accomplishments. The pride of these students manifested itself amongst the entire student body, constructing a pride-filled school with lots of spirit. The leadership and teamwork developed on the field was put to use in other ways in everyday life. Once again, the school social calendar revolved around the sports schedule. All teams strove with pride to reach their goals, and most of them did.



School spirit is rampant among Mooney fans. Crowds chant at games as they display their "Cougarism" in Cardinal Mooney sweatshirts sold by the Junior Class. Gym walls rock during pep rallies that fire up students and faculty for sport events and fund raisers. Chattering in the hallways between classes, parking lot socializing before and after school, fidgety Fridays, mellow Mondays, bake sales and TCBY at lunch and long lines at the ever popular "Uncle Frank's" are just a fraction of the everyday events undergone by a typical Mooney student.

Outstanding student participation is evident in school life activities both on and off campus throughout the year.





Freshmen begin their high school years with a series of warm welcomes from their upper class commrades. Beachers bake in the sun on Senior Freshman Beach Day.

Kids eagerly volunteer their time and efforts to raise money for the school in events such as: the Jogathon, the LPGA "Sarasota Classic" and the Telethon.

The celebration day of the school, Cardinal Mooney Day, provides barrels of laughter during games of "Love Your Neighbor" and "Name That Tune." "Homecoming Hoopla" attracts hards of fun-seekers during the festive weekend.

"An oriental extravaganza" is the description Carmen Berio gives of prom theme, "Sayonara." As the year draws to a close, farewell, the meaning of sayonara proves to be a perfect ending to a year of IMPACT.

School Life

BANG! THE YEAR BEGAN . . . . . .

. . . with Student Council Induction at Incarnation Church. This was the first of many Student Council functions that contributed to a "successful school year," as Miss Kolb stated. The Induction ceremony was celebrated by Father Mark Heuberger. Club presidents, class officers, homeroom representatives and Student Council Board members all took their oaths of office as the student body of Cardinal Mooney viewed their Student Council for the 1985-86 school year. Induction was the first major school affair in which the Freshmen partook. The next was to be . . .

. . . . . SUN 'N' FUN

. . . Welcome Week! Freshmen were showered with gifts from the upperclassmen. The high point of the week is always Senior/Freshman Beach Day. Freshmen humble themselves before their "royal seniors" bringing various foods, drinks and beach paraphernalia in accordance with their senior partner's requests. At the day's end it was apparent that everyone had a thrilling day of . . .

"STUDENT PARTICIPATION . . . . . .

. . . was the key to Cardinal Mooney Day," according to Bill Hayden. The students of Cardinal Mooney started November 15 with a short prayer service led by Father Mark, and the raising of the flag by members of the Key Club. All then watched a film entitled "The Greatest Days of our Lives," emphasizing the theme of involvement. A slide show which displayed student involvement at CMHS, accompanied by popular songs, followed the film. After dividing into groups, students enjoyed the game "Love Your Neighbor," which sparked cheer among everyone. While their spirits were up, the students displayed team unity in "Name That Tune."

The Cardinal Mooney Day festivities ended with a hot dog lunch provided by the Student Council. Mr. Fottler, a history teacher who can also cook, commented, "What a great finish to a . . .

JOGAMANIA STRUCK STUDENTS . . . . . .

. . . at Mooney as they walked, jogged and ran around the track to raise money for the school. An overwhelming majority of the students and faculty participated in this major fund raiser. Those involved moved to the beat of music played by "student DJs" Joe Galanek and David Murphy. Waterfights were once again the ever popular pasttime of students taking brief breaks in their travels around the track. A CHANGE OF PACE . . . . . .

. . . occurred during Spirit Week, when the campus thundered with enthusiasm for the annual Homecoming activities. Most of the students, even the freshmen, partook in the traditional dress-up days, including Tourist, School Spirit, Career, College and Vogue days, when flashy colors and "different" clothing were worn by all. Adding to the festive mood was Cardinal Mooney's first annual Hall Decorating Contest, in which the classes extravagantly challenged each other for the proud honor of winning. . . . MOONEY SPIRIT

. . . HOOPLA . . .

. . . was the theme for the 1985 Cardinal Mooney Homecoming. The spirit of Hoopla was rampant among the students during the pep rally, which was held in the gym. According to Coach Dowling, "The kids chanting 'Mooney, Mooney' shook the walls of the gym." The enthusiasm lasted until late in the evening on November 8, when the Cardinal Mooney Cougars challenged the Avon Park Devils. Although the victory was not ours, the crowd cheered as though it were. The dance was more than a success and from Senior Class President Katie Wright's point of view, "Almost everyone went to the dance and I think those who did, had a . . .

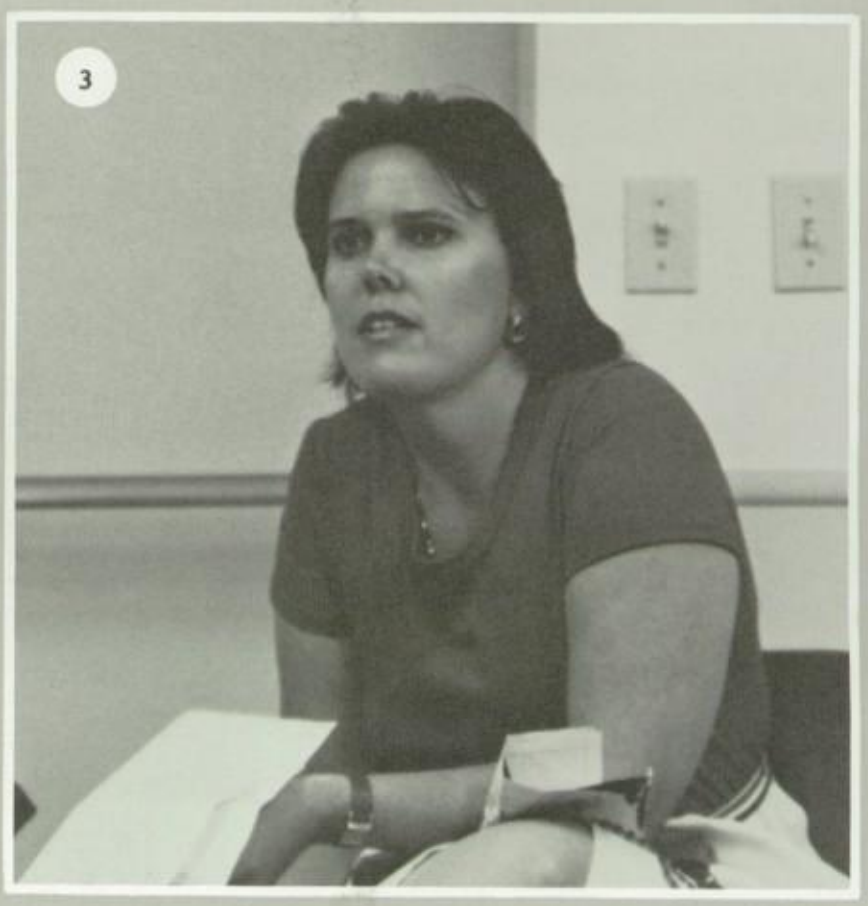
"LEARNING IS AGELESS"



as was proven on May 15 by the "intergenerational discussion" held on the Cardinal Mooney campus. Both parents and students participated in the Intergenerational Program by reading and brainstorming on several pages from one of Madeleine L'Engle's books. The program enhanced the students' "thoughts, impressions and perhaps dreams too," said Sister Patricia, our "Principal and Co-Learner." The intention is to exhibit how students can learn from parents as well as parents can learn from students.

The class of '64 welcomes the class of '86. The "Oldies" were back on campus during the holidays last December for an overdue class reunion. It was a good party, too, with grads from as far away as Texas and Maine! Now that the class of '86 has swelled the Mooney alumni ranks to 1600 plus, they become part of the "family-at-large," wherever they may be living in the future they will know that they are welcome back on campus.

The alumni now span the generations too. Among the organizers of the '64 party was Gary Adams, Mooney grad and father of Tracy Adams '86 and Kevin Adams '89.

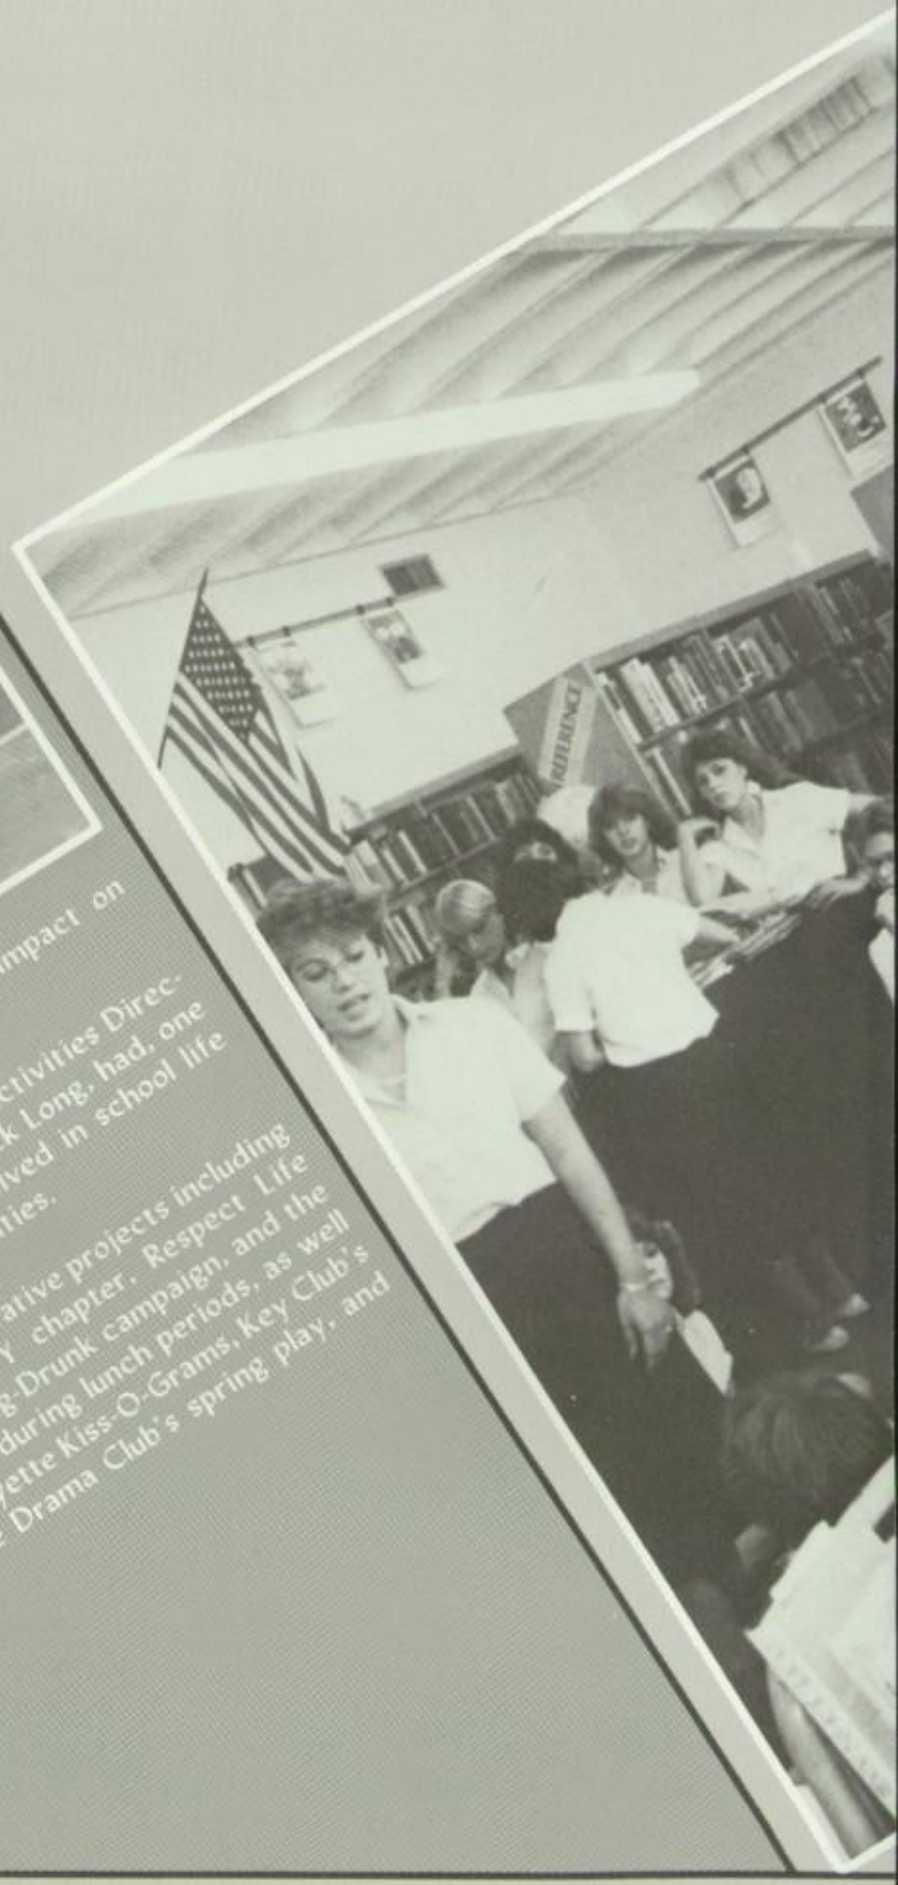
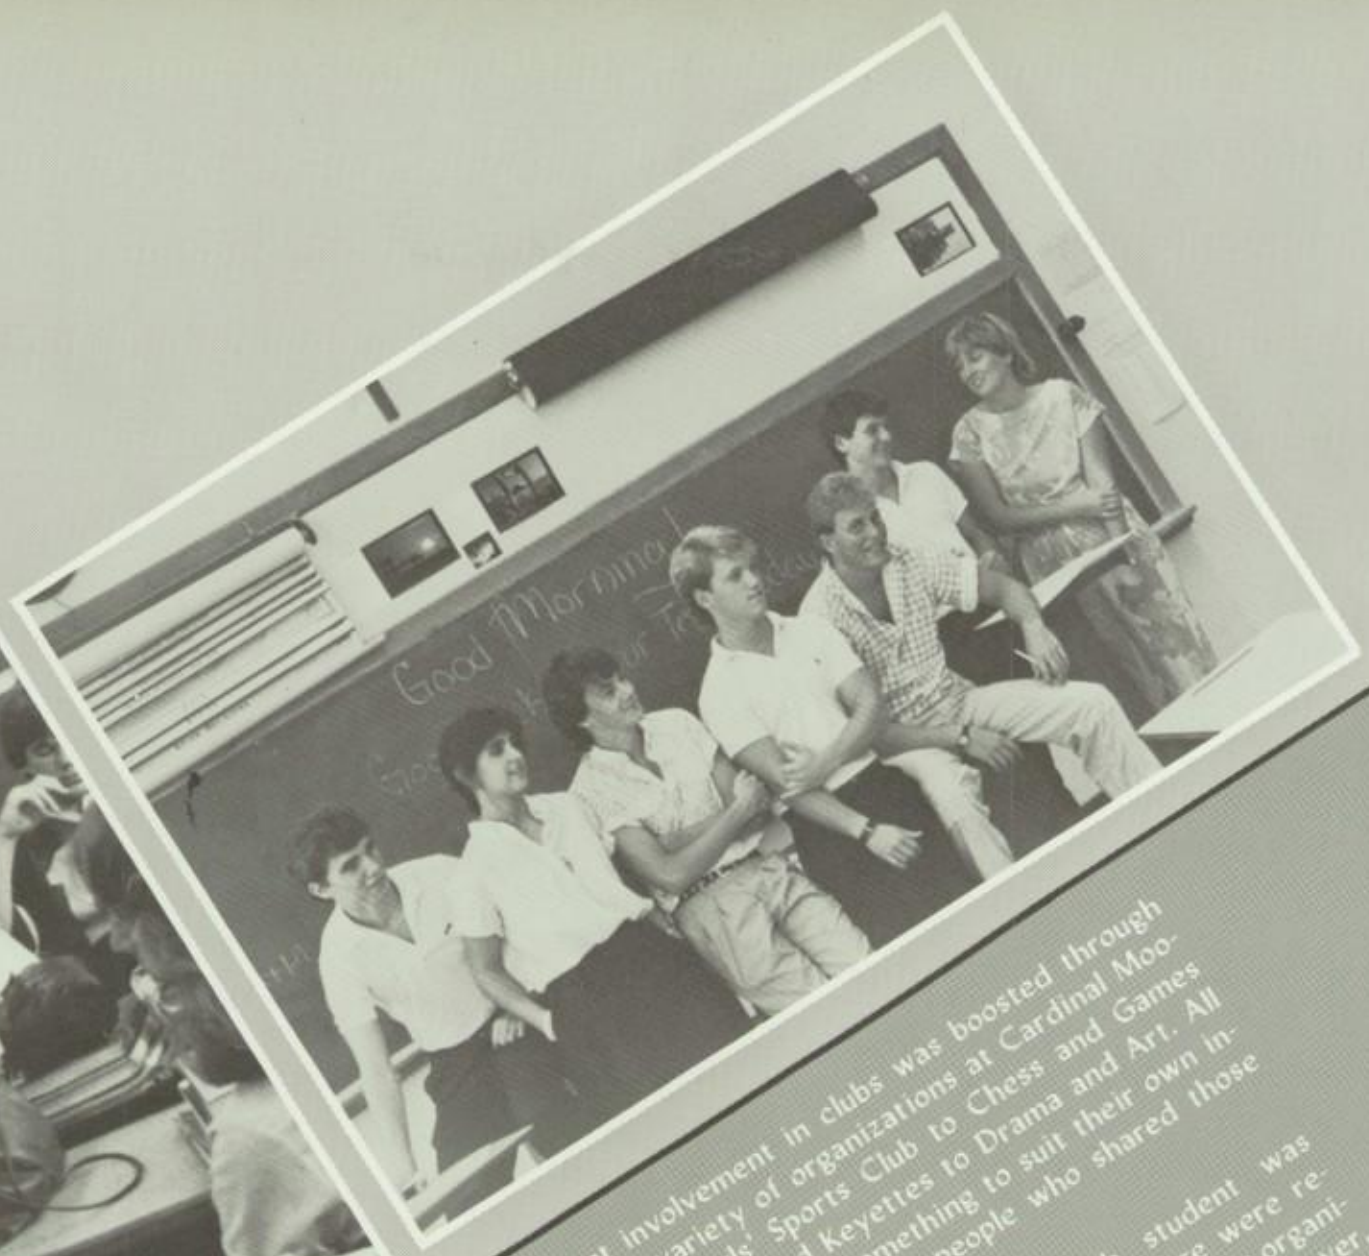
Clubs at Cardinal Mooney had a significant impact on school life during the 1985-86 school year.

Student Council, under the leadership of Activities Director Ms. Pamela Kolb and President Patrick Long, had, one of its best years." Each club was involved in school life through monthly meetings and activities.

Among these activities were innovative projects including the chartering of the new Hi-Y chapter. Respect Life Club's Students-Against-Driving-Drunk campaign, and the sale of This-Can't-Be-Yogurt during lunch periods, as well as CMHS traditions, like Keyette Kiss-O-Grams, Key Club's Christmas Tree sales, the Drama Club's spring play, and many other activities.





Student involvement in clubs was boosted through the wide variety of organizations at Cardinal Mooney, from Girls' Sports Club to Chess and Games Club from Key and Keyettes to Drama and Art. All students could find something to suit their own interests, as well as meet people who shared those interests.

As Director Ms. Kolb said,"Each student was touched by our organizations, and there were record-setting levels of participating within the organizations. Clubs enjoyed their most active year ever, and the club members' enthusiastic commitment as they strove for pride added to the ever-growing Cardinal Mooney spirit."

Change and renewal was the overall impact of Student Council this year. Under the leadership of Student Activities Director Pamela Kolb and President Pat Long, the Student Council initiated many activities and continued traditional events.

Some new events were the sale of doughnuts and cider on Halloween, a Homecoming hall-decorating contest, club sales of "This Can't Be Yogurt," the cookies and hot chocolate sale before Christmas, the anti-peer-pressure video "Voices," "Free-Fare's" rock concert, Basketball Spirit Week, reserved parking and assuming responsibility of the LPGA.

This is only the evident change however. Behind closed doors of long Board meetings, officers Alice Cuva, Amy Lynch, Cristin Simon, Billy Hayden, Christine Pflug and Lisa Haylett surfaced and discussed student complaints and ideas and suggestions to the faculty.

In continuing tradition, Council members organized Cardinal Mooney Day activities — a prayer service, "Name That Tune," a new game called "Love Your Neighbor," a slide show, free lunch and the school fundraiser, Jog-A-Thon.

They decorated the school for Christmas and in the Spring, celebrated Teacher Appreciation Day and Catholic Schools' Week.

This was also the first year as members of Student Council Associations: the National, the Southern and the Florida. In October, some members attended the Southern Association of Student Councils in Plantation, Florida.

The Inter Club Council was kept active under the guidance of officers Alice Cuva, Billy Hayden and Lisa Haylett. A sampling of their many activities included Christmas presents for the needy and cleaning the campus for the Telethon.

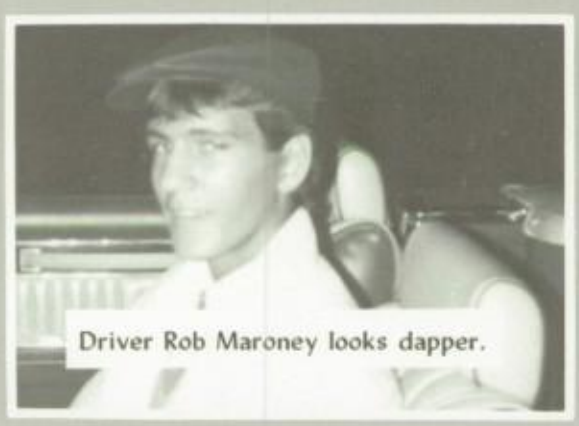
President Dan Madison prepares to pitch a no-hitter.

"The Key Club got me involved in a lot of behind-the-scene projects!" says junior member Rob Maroney. The Cardinal Mooney Key Club has earned the respect of both school and community this year. Mr. Bill Mauck, advisor, and officers Dan Madison, Tim Mihm, Todd Syprett, Kevin Romer and David Vross put forth much effort and energy into service endeavors to help their fellow-man. Key Club members were responsible for parking cars at football games, sold Christmas trees and hosted a softball game with the Keyettes.



Driver Rob Maroney looks dapper.

KEYETTES

President Rina Alvarez puts the finishing touches on the court.

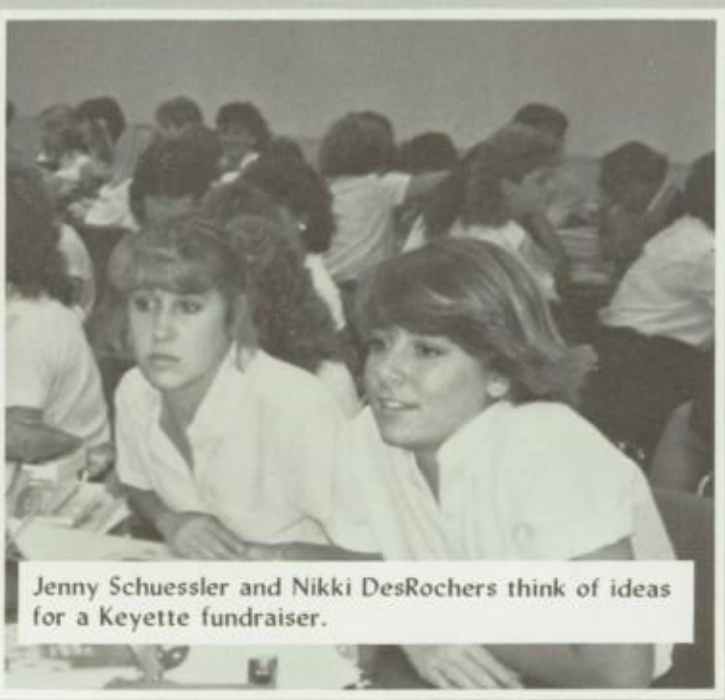
Kelly and Angela share the Halloween spirit at Children's Haven.



Jenny Schuessler and Nikki DesRochers think of ideas for a Keyette fundraiser.

Once again, the Keyettes Club has been the most popular service organization for girls at Cardinal Mooney. This year, Keyettes held the record for the largest membership, boasting over 130 participants.

"Our many activities were a 'key' to our success," says Rina Alvarez, president. Along with her board, Betsy Barnes, Kelly Graves, Angela Giorgianni, Nora Corrigan and advisor Miss Michelle Timmel, Rina sponsored some traditional and new projects. In addition to their busy work, the officers attended Kiwanis luncheons with their representative, Mrs. Mary Ismeurt.

FRENCH

Mrs. Buri describes French culture.

Molly Greer, Shari Valencic and Brian Merry plan the next meeting.

The French Club, led by officers Brian Merry, Shari Valencic, Molly Greer and Marella Rivolta, sponsored several French-related activities throughout the year. Among these were a gourmet luncheon at a local French restaurant, a cheese tasting party at Brian's home, playing "Loterie," a form of French bingo and viewing filmstrips of the people and country of France.

Moderator Mrs. Buri said "These activities were performed to generally give the students more exposure to the different customs of the French culture."

Molly Greer and Diane Zagrobelny play "Loterie."

Kerry Feeney and Kristin Pufta watch Senora blindfold Chris Rule.

Early in the year, officers, Angela Giorgianni, Nancy Ruscitto, Erin Hurter and Kerry Feeney, with help of moderator Mrs. Prestamo, arranged a field trip to Bishop Museum to see a 16th century chapel and a replica of a DeSoto house. The club also went to Casa Lupita, a Mexican restaurant in Bradenton. Finally, to close the semester on a high note, a traditional Spanish pinata was hung in the gym for all 38 members to "take a swing at."

The major event of the year, a journey to Tampa's Ybor City came in March, as 37 of the club's members met at 6:30 in the morning in order to fit in all the day's events. These included visiting La Segunda Central, a Spanish bakery, for a bread-making experience, hearing the history of El Centro Asturiano, a worldwide organization for the assistance of Asturians and their relatives in foreign countries, and, to end the day, lunch at the Valencia Gardens Restaurant.

BICYCLE

Club officers Binky Lew, Jeff McNail, Mrs. Pride, Bubba Lew and Suzanne Savageau.

Patti Savageau fixes her bicycle before a ride.

Pedaling into the year came the Bicycle Club with President Binky Lew in the lead. The club had a successful year with the help of the other officers, Vice-President Suzanne Savageau, Secretary Bubba Lew and Treasurer Jeff McNail. Mrs. Pride was the moderator in her first year at Cardinal Mooney.

The club's main activity was to take bicycle rides, which took the members to the scenic spots in the area, such as South Lido Beach and Longboat Key. The Bicycle Club held its annual Bike-A-Thon to raise money for the Cardinal Mooney Telethon. As Binky Lew said, "The main purpose of our club was to plan bicycle rides. This year we succeeded in organizing the best rides ever."

Hi-Y members know the true meaning of fun and friendship!

The new edition to Cardinal Mooney's 1985-86 club roster was Hi-Y. Affiliated with the YMCA, Hi-Y is a school and community service club. Under the leadership of advisor Miss Michelle Timmel and President Jim Grant, members of Hi-Y participated with the Sarasota Metropolitan Hi-Y club in attending a winter retreat at Camp WeWa, the Prelegislative Meeting in November and the highlight of the year's activities, the Youth in Government seminar in Tallahassee in February. Jim Grant, Chris Smith and Shari Valencic served as state officers at this conference, while Meg Goede, Pat Long, Rob Maroney, Russ Peterson and Ashley Schulten received special awards there.

PEP

Lots of pep characterizes club members in all they do.

Under the leadership of President Carolyn Rey, the Pep Club spread enthusiasm into the school. Moderator Mrs. Janice Tate, along with the other officers, Brenda Cool, Diane Lahger, Michelle DesJardins and Tom Lynch, added their input to make the year a success.

Several activities were planned for the year. For Homecoming, members decorated the football field. To start off basketball season with a bang, some of the 100 members decorated the gym for the jamboree. Secret Santa messages made the Christmas season even more special. The Pep Club also sponsored a very successful Sweetheart Dance. To round off the year, t-shirts were sold to the many active members.

S. Piechowiak, C. Pellegrino, J. Hoffman, L. Vollmar, and B. Bianchi listen intently.

The Respect Life Club had a busy year this year. Tracy Adams, along with officers, Nora Corrigan, Sharon Bodziak and Russ Peterson, organized an eventful year. Sister Mary Margaret Joseph was the ever-helpful moderator of the club.

This year's activities included some traditional events and some exciting new events. Once again the club held a S.O.L.V.E. Green Stamp Drive to raise money for unwed mothers. The winning homeroom received a Donut Breakfast. It also held its annual Fast-A-Thon to raise money for the India mission. As a special activity for Valentine's Day, Respect Life held a Cupid Contest of which Mrs. Halstead was the proud winner.

A new club was added this year under the leadership of the Respect Life Club. Students Against Driving Drunk (SADD) began its first year as a success. SADD provided a movie shown in religion classes.

DRAMA

The Cardinal Mooney Drama Club had another strong year in '85-'86 under the supervision of Mrs. Kuklewski and Ms. Timmel, and the leadership of president Tony Boothby, vice president Paul Ramaeker, treasurer Lisa Millet, secretary Pat Nasser, and parliamentarian Lisa Partenio.

Among the activities in which club members participated were the creation of an award-winning booth in the Jaycees' Haunted House at the Sarasota Fairgrounds, and, once a month, the attendance of Saturday evening performances at the Players' Theater. But the crowning achievement of the Drama Club's year was, of course, the spring play, "Cheaper by the Dozen." Directed by Mrs. Kuklewski, and starring Paul Ramaeker, Dana Calamaras and Nancy Ruscitto, the play was, according to Tony Boothby, a "success in every way."

To sum up the year, Mrs. Kuklewski comments, "With all our activities and achievements, the Drama Club enjoyed a thriving year, and we're certain to have a great future."

Energetic activity characterized the Girls' Sports Club this year. The enthusiastic officers, President Trina Dimino, Vice-President Carolyn Jaster, Secretary Colleen Riley, and Treasurer Kelly Howells were aided by their competent moderator, Miss Elizabeth Martinko.

The forty members displayed enjoyment in participating in the club's annual events. One event was the successful Homecoming Dress-Up Week to animate school spirit. Many of the girls volunteered to line-judge volleyball games, to paint signs for the gym and to score girls' basketball games. During the football season, several members sold tickets before the home games.

For those most active in the club, the officers are planning an end-of-the-year excursion to Busch Gardens for a job well done.

The Class of '86, together with the entire Cardinal Mooney High School family, is grateful for the generous support this school receives from donors and benefactors.

To all who helped prepare and present this year's TELETHON — the committee, the parents, the faculty, the students who worked so hard, the merchants who donated items for auction and the participants who contributed financially — we say, "Thank you for helping our Alma Mater."

Special recognition is due to those listed for their contributions to the Cardinal Circle ($500 and above), and to the Century Club ($100-$499).

Several Memorial Fund donations were made on behalf of deceased loved ones. These are listed separately, and will be added to the permanent Memorial Roster displayed in the Administration Offices.

Don't Quit

When things go wrong, as they sometimes will,
When the road you're trudging seems all uphill,
When the funds are low and the debts are high,
And you want to smile, but you have to sigh,
When care is pressing you down a bit,
Rest if you must, but don't you quit.

Life is queer with its twists and turns,
As every one of us sometimes learns,
And many a fellow turns about
When he might have won had he stuck it out.
Don't give up though the pace seems slow,
You may succeed with another blow.

Often the goal is nearer than
It seems to a faint and faltering man;
Often the struggler has given up
When he might have captured the victor's cup;
And he learned too late when the night came down,
How close he was to the golden crown.

Success is failure turned inside out,
The silver tint of the clouds of doubt,
And you never can tell how close you are;
It may be near when it seems afar.
So stick to the fight when you're hardest hit,
It's when things seem worst that you mustn't quit.

"An international network of individually owned and operated real estate offices"

COLOPHON

This book is dedicated to our advisor, Sister Mary Neil whose inspiration will be sorely missed next year. Her guidance was always enough to keep us on the right track to success but never too much to override our creative instincts. The PRINCE is a testament to her dedication and diligence. She will live forever as a part of Cardinal Mooney's history. Our prayers, along with an extra special thanks for her infinite patience and understanding, superior organization and masterful orchestration, go with her to Rome. She is priceless.

The 1985-86 PRINCE is a culmination of the outstanding efforts of the juniors and seniors that comprised the yearbook staff and our advisor, Sister Mary Neil. Thanks are due to the following persons:

Jerry Gladstein, our Josten's representative, who, through his creative advice and expert skill, helped us proof the best possible pages before the deadlines arrived.

Bryn-Alan Photography, whose high quality photo developing and ready willingness to aid the staff is immeasureable.

Trina Dimino, whose artistic talents, evident throughout the entire book, added a special quality to the PRINCE.

Sister Patricia, our principal, whose supportive smile and "stamp of approval" maintained the high quality of the PRINCE.

In addition, the staff would like to thank our wonderful patrons, businesses and school organizations without whose professional support the PRINCE could not be published.

In conclusion, both of us, and the rest of the PRINCE staff, are proud to present this book to you, Cardinal Mooney.
